

GERMANS ATTACK, CHASE LINER

LUSITANIA INVESTIGATORS SCORE GERMANY

LAY THE BLAME FOR SINKING OF VESSEL AND LOSS OF LIFE

London, July 17.—Torpedoes fired by a submarine of "German" nationality caused the loss of the steamship Lusitania and its passengers, according to findings of the court of inquiry appointed to investigate the disaster.

The court held that no blame for the tragedy attached either to Captain Turner, commander of the vessel, or the Cunard line, the owners.

"After having carefully inquired into the circumstances of the disaster," says the formal report of the court, "the court finds the loss of the ship and lives were due to damages caused the ship by torpedoes fired by a submarine of German nationality."

"In the opinion of the court, the attack was not done merely with the intention of sinking the ship, but also with the intention of destroying the lives of the people on board."

Other salient features of the report are that the life boats, life belt facilities, were adequate; that the demeanor of the crew was above all blame and that the conduct of the passengers, barring a slight panic when the steaming passengers came on deck, was praiseworthy. The court also found that the ship was unarmed and that her cargo was a general one, the ammunition aboard consisting only of 5,000 cases of cartridges from which there was no explosion. A small

OHIO FLOOD DANGER IS PRACTICALLY OVER

RIVERS GO DOWN, FEW LIVES LOST

Columbus, July 17.—The passing of last night without any considerable rainfall resulted in improved conditions early today throughout the Ohio flood district. While many thousand acres of land remained under water today, practically all rivers were either stationary or were falling, and with clear weather generally prevailing, it was believed the worst had been passed.

The Scioto and Olentangy rivers began receding here early today, bringing ease of mind to anxious watchers, especially in the flood-stricken district on the west side, where thousands remained up all of last night. Many of them were engaged in moving their belongings to higher grounds.

Lorces along the Scioto river in this city, which began looking yesterday afternoon, were repaired during the night and this morning were reported to be holding fast against the strain put upon them.

Reports reaching the state house today indicated that storms and floods of the past few days have done immense damage but that danger of further high water is past and aid of national guard will be needed in no community. Governor Willis telegraphed the mayors of Lima and Kenton, where the greatest havoc from flood was reported, offering to call out militia to aid in work incident to the receding waters. No request for troops, however, was received from Lima.

Mayor Charles Price of Kenton wired that "the entire Hardin county marsh is under water from 3 to 10 feet deep, that South Kenton is completely flooded, many families out of homes, water slowly receding. All cope with the situation."

ATTEMPT TO DESTROY STEAMER ON WHICH MANY AMERICANS RIDE

New York, July 17.—The British passenger liner Orduna, with 227 passengers aboard, 21 of whom were Americans, was attacked without warning by a German submarine at six o'clock in the morning of July 9, sixteen hours out of Liverpool, on her way to New York. Announcement of the attack was made by the ship's captain, Thomas McCombe Taylor, and passengers when the Orduna reached here today.

A torpedo was fired at the steamer and missed it by ten yards. Twenty minutes later a submarine rose to the surface possibly a different submarine from the one that launched the torpedo and for half an hour thereafter pursued the steamer, firing shells which whistled over the decks above the heads of passengers standing there with their life belts on.

Ten minutes before the attack a sailing ship with two American flags painted on her side was seen ahead. Captain Taylor became suspicious of this craft and began maneuvering his ship. Then came the attack, the first warning of which was the streak of a torpedo which whirled through the water and missed the Orduna's stern by ten yards or thereabouts.

Stewards ran below and aroused the passengers. With clothes

NEW NOTE AWAITS PRESIDENT'S RETURN

Washington, July 17.—Development in the issue between the United States and Germany awaited today the return of President Wilson from Cornish, N. H.

The president is to take up with Secretary Lansing and others of the cabinet several drafts of an answer to Germany's recent reply to the American note protesting against the German method of submarine warfare. The president will confer with Secretary Lansing Monday. The cabinet will meet Tuesday.

The new note will reassert the right of Americans on the high seas. It probably will be brief. Until either Great Britain or Germany requests specifically mediation on the subject of submarine warfare and contraband, officials hold that the American government will make no move in this direction and that this government will not subordinate the Lusitania case or the assertion of its rights at hints from Germany.

Cincinnati, July 17.—Wiley Taylor and his wife Bessie, who is a sister of Elizabeth Nolte, the 11-year-old school girl whose mutilated body was found in an area way at her home a month ago, were taken to police headquarters today to be questioned. The police stated that they played a telephonic device in the Taylor home and that as a result of conversations between husband and wife they desired to question them further concerning the murder of little Elizabeth.

GERMANS PLANNING ANOTHER HUGE DRIVE

London, July 17.—A new German offensive of huge proportions with Riga, a great Russian seaport and the seat of the governor general of the Baltic provinces, as to its objective, is revealed in the latest official statement issued at Petrograd and Berlin. Military experts here construe the offensive to be a vast envelopment in which the Germans are making a Herculean effort to destroy the Russian army.

Both the German and Russian communications agree that the German forces are at the Windau river near Goldingen, which is only eighty miles from Riga, the great strategic commercial metropolis in the gulf of Riga and upon the upper Baltic.

A message from Petrograd this morning added details of sanguinary fighting along the new line in efforts to hold back the German advance which now is being concentrated on Riga and on Warsaw, while the Austro-Hungarians are moving northward from the Dniester river.

Advices reaching London today say that the Germans left a trail of desolation along the Baltic sea from Memel to Libau, where the villas, hotels and casinos are alleged to have been destroyed, about the only exception, it is said, being the palace of a Polish nobleman whose cousin married an American woman. The palace now is being used as a military headquarters in which Prince Henry of Prussia and Field Marshal von Hindenburg recently conferred on the new offensive toward Riga.

Crown Prince Frederick William's drive in the Argonne forest now is accepted as a small success, in gain a few hundred yards of territory but as a failure, as to its real purpose—decisive penetration of the French line.

The extremist leaders declare that it is a question no longer of a 5 per cent increase in wages but the abrogation of the royal proclamation which subjects the miners to a fine of $25 daily for striking.

No effort yet has been made to enforce the fines against the 150,000 strikers, which the leaders construe as an evidence of the virtual impossibility of carrying out the plan.

Reports received this morning from all the Welsh centers show that the strike continues to cause much agitation but no disorder.

John Simonton, well known N. & W. engineer, living at Sciotoville, has been quite ill the past few days.

NOW SHE'S GONE INTO THE MOVIES

Doris Woolridge is the latest dramatic star to succumb to the lure of the movies. She's first to appear in "The Bondman," with William Farnum. Miss Woolridge has the distinction of having appeared as leading woman in most of the noted stock companies of the country.

THAW JUST 'LOAF'S' AT ATLANTIC CITY

Atlantic City, N. J., July 17.—Harry K. Thaw's first night of real freedom in nine years was spent in restful sleep at a beach front hotel. After yesterday's weary ride down the state from New York where he was released on bail Thaw was much refreshed and prepared to spend the day quietly. He remained out of sight early in the day and took breakfast in his room.

The dining room of the hotel was crowded with guests, many of whom prolonged their meal hoping to see him. So far as could be learned Thaw has formed no definite plans for the immediate future except to get as much rest as he can. The length of his stay here is not known but it is thought he will go to his home in Pittsburgh in a few days.

Boardwalk promenaders were on the alert to get a glimpse of the slayer of Stanford White and many lingered about his hotel.

Poor Paul, Those Summer Girls Cause Eyes To Fail, 'Tis Sad

PAUL'S VACATION ARRIVES

This concerns a rumor—just a rumor—and it's about Paul Davidson.

You know Paul, he left here several days ago for Cedar Point on Lake Erie. Cedar Point is quite a fashionable place—if it wasn't Paul wouldn't make a trip up there every summer soon as he gets his vacation.

Paul's got good eyes—very good eyes, and he has always believed in using them. There is much to see them on up at Cedar Point, especially about this time of the season.

Now, concerning the rumor. Some one tells it that the first day Paul was up there he sent a rush order back to Portsmouth for a pair of colored goggles. Now as is stated above, Paul has good eyes. "Course, he left here in an auto, and the trip may have done some damage to his eyes, but it developed that this wasn't the case.

In his order Paul begged that they be rushed to him by the fastest mail. Evidently he didn't want to lose his eye-sight. The oculist who received this order, whose name is mentioned right here, it being (1) hastily packed up a pair.

He was about to send them special delivery when he learned that a friend of his was going to take the next train for Cedar Point. And thereby hangs the tale. The friend told Mr. (1) who in turn told us.

Paul's eyes had about given away to the bright colors of the summer coats that are being worn by the fair demurels up Cedar Point way, and he felt that he must have something to rest them.

THINK MEN THREW GIRL INTO THE RIVER

Cincinnati, July 17.—The death of Ella Ellswick, 21, of this city, who was drowned in the Licking river at the foot of Eighth street, Covington, late yesterday, was being investigated today by the police of Covington and Newport, Ky., and Cincinnati.

It was believed that the woman was accidentally drowned until a man made a statement to the Covington police that he saw two men throw a woman into the Licking.

The body of Miss Ellswick was recovered from the river by Clifford Sullivan, of Newport, who told the police he did not see her drown. William Martin, 25, an express driver, and Edward Collins, 19, a pipe corer, both of Cincinnati, are being held pending further investigation in connection with the case.

London, July 17.—The executive council of the South Wales miners having failed at a meeting held in London today to reach an agreement on the means of settling the coal dispute, left for Cardiff where it will meet again on Monday.

Bathing Beach Is Now All O. K.

After weeks of disappointing weather, local bathers are at last going to be given the opportunity to enjoy a dip into the Ohio river. The management of the Peerless Bathing Beach reported Saturday that the Ohio river is falling fast, that the water is clear, and that conditions are ideal for bathing. They are making big preparations for crowds this afternoon and Sunday.

Bad weather has proven disastrous to the management, who haven't had one ideal day since the beach opened about two months ago. The beach and its attendant facilities represent a heavy investment.

WAS 92 TODAY

It was three degrees cooler Saturday than on Friday, the maximum temperature being 92 against 95 recorded on yesterday. The minimum today was 72 degrees.

There was a fine breeze in evidence today and it brought relief from the excessive heat of the past few days.

THREE MEN SAY THEY ARE NOT FOR KAPS

It would seem that snap judgment was taken in the naming of the Kaps executive committee which is to manage his campaign, the names of which are given elsewhere in this issue. Three of the men named have sent cards to the Times in which they deny that they will serve on the committee or that they will support the candidacy of Mr. Kaps. The cards follow:

Editor Times—I noticed that my name was mentioned as a member of the Kaps executive committee. I wish to state publicly that it was done without my consent and that I am going to support Charles McCormick in the Republican primaries.

How, and Why, —the GOODRICH "Fair-List" Propaganda now saves Car-Owners, yearly, over $25,000,000 on Tires

THERE are 1,923,951 Automobiles now State-licensed, and running, in the United States.

Of these, 1,803,951 are Pleasure Cars—i.e., exclusive of Trucks, etc.

More than 90% of them, or about 1,623,555, use Pneumatic Tires.

Each car will wear out and replace, on average, about one Set of Four Tires per year.

Therefore, the interests of each Car-Owner as well as each Car-Manufacturer, each Car-Dealer, and Salesman, is vitally and personally affected by the price of Tires to Consumers.

Because, Tires and Gasoline are the two big items of consumption in the operation of Motor Cars.

The Owner who used his Car 1,000 Miles less per year, than he would have done, because of "the high-price of Tires and Gasoline," received that much less return from his entire investment in the Car proper.

The potential, or prospective, Car-Owner who fails to buy a Car because of "the high cost of Tires and Gasoline,"—he who sells his Car and does not buy again because of "the high cost of Tires and Gasoline,"—or he who, for the same reason, stores his Car and does not run it during a considerable part of the year, is a direct loss to —1st—Automobile Manufacturers, as a class.

—2d—Automobile Dealers, as a class.
—3d—Garage Owners, as a class.
—4th—Lubrication & Gasoline Manufacturers, as a class.

But, he is a greater loss to TIRE Manufacturers, and Dealers, as a class, than to any others.

Because, Gasoline and Lubricants, for instance, can be sold to the Owners of Motor Boats, Stationary, and other Motors.

But, Automobile Tires can only be sold, in the ultimate, to the man who OWNS a Car, and who wears out Tires through using it.

EVERY mile that each Automobile runs, means an automatic Sale of Tires to replace that mileage with new Tires.

But, all the Salesmanship, and all the Advertising, under the Sun, could not increase, by a single Tire, the total sales of Tires beyond the number of Cars owned by Consumers, and the number of Miles each Consumer runs his Car yearly.

The Market for Tires is therefore limited inflexibly, to the number of Cars running, and the Mileage which each Owner is induced to run yearly.

Therefore, we opine that to promote greater Sales, and greater use, of Automobiles, few better incentives can be offered than markedly-lowered cost, TO CONSUMERS, for Tires and Gasoline.

Just as we recognize that the only legitimate expansion open to the Tire Industry, as a whole, would be due to the Sale of more Automobiles each year to Consumers, with a greater average Mileage USE, per year, of each Car by each Owner.

That is why we favor the lowest possible price for Tires, to Consumers, consistent with maintenance of high quality and a fair profit to Dealer and Mfr.

So this, then, is a leading reason why WE initiated, and propagated, that Goodrich "Fair-List" Movement which we publicly announced in the press on Jan. 31, 1915, and which caused practically every Pneumatic Tire Manufacturer in this Country to follow our lead and bring his prices down to a fairer level.

THIS is also the reason why some Tire Manufacturers, who could not, or would not, "meet" our BASIC prices for Pneumatic Tires (even though our "Fair-List" Propaganda obliged them to make heavy reductions off their former Lists) might erroneously suppose that "Goodrich" Tires have been cheapened in Quality, as well as in price.

Hence this explanation (to the Public, to Car-Manufacturers, Dealers, Car-Salesmen, Garages, and Tire Dealers generally) that we deem it "good business" to sell the best Goodrich Tires (of fabric construction) we have ever made, at the fairest price possible for such quality.

Hence, too, the following TEST offer to Consumers.

—We will cheerfully pay for any Goodrich Safety "Non-Skid" Tire, sold since our "Fair-List" price-reduction (announced on January 31, 1915), which when cut open shows any reduction in quality, in number of layers of Canvas, in thickness, or quality of Rubber, when compared with any other Goodrich Safety "Non-Skid" made by us, and sold at our higher prices current before the Goodrich "Fair-List" Movement.

And, this is further to authorize any Tire-User to extend this Offer (at our expense) to any Tire Dealer, or Manufacturer.

We ask Car-Owners, and Tire Consumers, in their own interest, to see that no "implication" of lowered quality in Goodrich Tires goes unchallenged—just as we have protected their interests, for our own sake, through our "Fair-List" Propaganda.

BECAUSE of that GOODRICH "Fair-List" Propaganda, every Car-Owner who now buys any make of Tire sized 37 x 5, now saves on each set of 4 Tires, an average of about $46.27.

—Every Car-Owner who uses 34 x 4 Tires, of any make, now saves, through the Goodrich "Fair-List" Propaganda an average of about $26.15 per Set of 4 Tires.

Made as always—

- The same reliable Construction.
- The same dependable Service.
- Nothing whatever taken out of materials or Quality, no matter what reductions in List-Price are ever made.

—Every Car-Owner who uses 30 x 3 1/4 Tires, now saves, through the Goodrich "Fair-List" Propaganda, an average of about $14.70 per Set of 4 Tires.

Other sizes in proportion.

The 1,623,555 State-licensed Car-Owners who use Pneumatic Tires now save about 20% of what they last year paid for ANY make and size, whether they be Goodrich or competing brands,—equal to more than $25,000,000 per year.

And, don't forget that this giant saving to Car-Owners was never mentioned to the Public by other Tire Manufacturing Concerns until the Goodrich "Fair-List" Propaganda made it imperative that they extend the Saving to Consumers on their Tires, or lose business to the Goodrich Co.

But, notwithstanding all this,—the fact which should loom largest to TIRE-USERS is the contrast of 10% to 40%, in prices, that still exists between the low price of the best Non-Skid Tires (of fabric construction) that money can buy, or the largest Rubber Factory in the World produce,—to wit, GOODRICH (Non-Skid Tires) and all other "responsible" Tires in the field.

Compare prices and see! Then, if you are not already a Goodrich User, do yourself (and us), the justice to buy at least one GOODRICH "Non-Skid" Tire.

Test that out for Quality, Mileage and Resilience against any other Tire, at any price, which you are now using.

The result of such Test will cause you to wonder why you ever paid more for Maximum Quality, Mileage, and Resilience than the Basic price of Goodrich Non-Skid Tires?

Causes Arrest Of Alleged Assailant

James Carter, a colored cook of Davis Station, while in the city Saturday morning, caused the arrest of Arthur Jones, a Peabodias, W. Va., negro, as the same who had held him up near the Black Diamond brick plant and shot him in the leg, April 28, 1913.

Carter recognized his assailant in a North End saloon and Jones, who was drinking, was arrested by Officer Callahan Smith. Jones denied that he was the man who had waylaid Carter, who at that time was employed as a cook in Contractor King's construction camp.

MAN IS CHARGED WITH INFLUENCING HIS SON TO TESTIFY FALSELY IN CASE

The motive behind the charge of Judge Thomas to the grand jury last Monday relative to alleged tampering with witnesses before the grand jury was disclosed Saturday morning in the arrest and arraignment of Wesley Hammick, of Gallia street, on a secret indictment charging him with using his influence with his son, John Hammick, to testify falsely and with later inducing him to leave the city.

Young Hammick was wanted as a witness in the cutting affray in the East End in which Bernard Friel was killed. He left the jurisdiction of this court before he could be subpoenaed by the state.

Prosecuting Attorney McKelthwait uncovered evidence, however, which indicated that he had been induced to leave the city and upon that evidence, an indictment was returned against his father.

The elder Hammick was arrested Saturday morning by Deputy Sheriff Rome Arthur on Waller street, and later brought before Judge Thomas, before whom he entered a plea of not guilty.

Three witnesses were examined by the court, who stated that a trial would not be held until the accused had time to secure an attorney. Officers John Smith and Dennis Burns furnished evidence, however, which warranted the court to continue the hearing until next Monday morning.

Officer Smith testified that he overheard Hammick tell Richard Bertram, a brother of the alleged knife user, in an East-End saloon that "if you will bait us as I told you to, my son will either change his evidence before the grand jury or will leave town." Smith further testified that Bertram repeated the statement to him on the outside, evidence which Officer Burns fully corroborated. Richard Bertram, when called, denied knowledge of either conversation.

Judge Thomas in addressing the prisoner, warned him of the seriousness of the charge against him, which he added would be sifted to the bottom. He advised Hammick to have his son in court Monday morning, even if he had to send him the money to get here. The court further indicated that from the evidence in possession of the state, other persons were implicated in the matter, and that all of them, if proven guilty, would receive the maximum penalty of the law. Hammick promised to have his son in court Monday morning. In the meantime, he was allowed his freedom on his own recognizance.

Joseph Bertram was indicted by the grand jury this week on a charge of manslaughter.

Jewish Ministry Organizes For War

London, July 17.—Between 7,000 and 8,000 of the Jews serving with the British colors have registered their names at the Jewish chaplain's department in London, and perhaps as many more have enlisted who have failed to register. The Jewish roll of honor from the list of British slain is published weekly in the Jewish Chronicle, and a Jewish recruiting committee brings in from fifty to sixty fresh enlistments a week.

Even the Jewish ministry has also been organized for the war, contributing about a dozen chaplains to attend the Jewish volunteers. The senior chaplain, the Rev. Michael Adler, is now in France, but the machine he created is running smoothly. His assistant, S. Lipson, is now in charge.

The United Kingdom, he says, has been mapped into areas, which have been placed under nine Jewish assistant chaplains appointed by the war office. The function of these chaplains is to get into touch with their co-religionists in the ranks, arranging services for them and look after their welfare generally. They also visit the Jewish wounded in the hospitals.

The young Jews are enthusiastic soldiers according to Chaplain Lipson who tells of one who quit his job in Brazil and traveled to London to enlist.

N. & W. LAST YEAR SET A NEW COAL RECORD

Roanoke, Va., July 17.—In the last 12 months ending June 30, the Norfolk and Western established a new record in coal traffic, having had the biggest year in its history. According to a report given out today, it exceeded the coal haul for the previous 12 months by 242,373 tons, when the total tonnage was 25,445,610, to that time the biggest year's business. In the period just closed it reached 25,688,983.

At the beginning of the European war it was thought that the Virginia and West Virginia fields would profit greatly as a result, but because of lack of ships and financial conditions, the foreign trade, instead of showing an increase, dropped off. Likewise, with these conditions, the domestic business showed a considerable decrease, and few of the mines were operated from December on to April, when heavy foreign orders began, and have continued ever since.

Goethals Will Quit The Isthmus Post

Panama, July 12.—During the latter part of August and the early days of September, next, several important changes will take place among the higher personnel of the Panama Canal. The resignation of Major General George W. Goethals, U. S. A., as governor of the Panama Canal and his departure from the Isthmus where he has been in supreme command for the last eight years, will be the beginning of other changes.

The most important of these will be the probable elevation of Lieutenant Colonel Harding, U. S. A., from head of the Department of Maintenance and Operation, to be governor of the Panama Canal. It has all along been understood on the Isthmus, and this understanding has not been contradicted by General Goethals, that Colonel Harding would succeed to the governorship. Immediately after his resignation as governor and his departure from Panama, General Goethals plans to apply for his retirement from active service with the army. His intention is to take a year's vacation and then to engage in private engineering consultation work in New York City. In this venture, he probably will be joined by his son, Captain George R. Goethals, U. S. A., and Sidney B. Williamson, long a civilian engineer on the canal work.

ATTEMPTS TO ESCAPE IN WASTE CAN

London, July 17.—An attempt by a German prisoner to escape by concealing himself in a can of garbage was discovered at the camp at Leigh this week.

A farmer who buys all the food refuse of the camp was carting away a number of cans. The unusual weight of one of them aroused his suspicions. He removed a quantity of cabbage leaves and found a German soldier beneath. A German named Schmidt was shot and killed at Leigh a week ago while trying to escape.

SUICIDES BODY IS IDENTIFIED

Cincinnati, July 17.—The fears of Mrs. Barbara Muck that the man who jumped from the Louisville and Nashville railroad bridge Wednesday evening might have been her son, Edward Muck, 22, were realized today when the body was taken from the river at the foot of state avenue and removed to the county morgue.

Louis Dickman Wednesday night related how he had encountered a hatless and coatless man on the bridge that evening and the next instant had heard a splash in the river and the man was gone.

When the Muck family heard Dickman's story they feared it was their relative.

VETOES ANTI-TIP BILL

Montgomery, Ala., July 17.—Governor Henderson today vetoed the anti-tipping bill on the ground that he did not believe the law could be enforced and its constitutionality was doubtful.

DANIELS TO ISSUE STATEMENT SOON

Washington, July 17.—Secretary Daniels today announced that he would issue a statement Monday developing his plan for a civilian naval advisory board of which Thomas A. Edison is to be the head.

While the secretary declined in advance to say definitely what the statement would contain it was thought it would include the names of some noted inventors and technical experts who will be invited to serve on the advisory board with Mr. Edison.

FORD COMPANY TO REFUND $15,000,000

Detroit, July 17.—The Ford Automobile company yesterday afternoon announced a refund of approximately $15,000,000 to owners of Ford automobiles who have purchased their machines since August 3, 1914.

On August 1, 1914, the company announced that if 300,000 machines were sold during the ensuing year, each purchaser would receive a refund of from $40 to $60. The 300,000 mark was reached this afternoon. The company says the refund is strictly in the nature of the profit distribution policy of the company.

Foreign Minister Of Greece Resigns

London, July 17.—Christakis Zographos, foreign minister of Greece, has resigned, according to an Athens dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company.

Although King Constantine's physicians declare his condition is satisfactory and that he is convalescing normally after his severe illness, they have ordered him to refrain from all participation in political discussions.

M. Zographos became foreign minister in the cabinet formed by M. Gournaris in March, after the retirement of M. Venizelos as premier when the king declined to accept his views regarding the proper attitude for Greece to assume in the war.

Willis Denies Report

Columbus, July 17.—Governor Willis today officially denied a report that the position of chief liquor inspector under the new McDermott bill had been offered to James A. White, recently appointed superintendent of the anti-saloon league of Ohio.

Goodrich tires (of fabric construction) we have ever made, at the fairest price possible for such quality. Hence, too, the following TEST offer to consumers.

—We will cheerfully pay for any Goodrich Safety "Non-Skid" Tire sold since our "Fair-List" price reduction (announced on January 31, 1915) which when cut open shows any reduction in quality, in number of layers of canvas, in thickness, or quality of rubber, when compared with any other Goodrich Safety "Non-Skid" made by us, and sold at our higher prices current before the Goodrich "Fair-List" movement.

And—this is further to authorize any tire-user to extend this offer (at our expense) to any tire dealer, or manufacturer.

We ask car-owners and tire consumers, in their own interest, to see that no "implication" of lowered quality in Goodrich tires goes unchecked—just as we have protected their interests, for our own sake, through our "Fair-List" propaganda.

Because of that GOODRICH "Fair-List" propaganda, every car-owner who now buys any make of tire sized 37x5, now saves, on each set of 4 tires, an average of about $14.27.

—Every car-owner who uses 31x tires of any make, now saves, through the Goodrich "Fair-List" propaganda, an average of about $24.15 per set of 4 tires.

—Every car-owner who uses 30x 3 1/2 tires, now saves, through the Goodrich "Fair-List" propaganda, an average of about $14.70 per set of 4 tires.

Other sizes in proportion.

The 1,033,551 State-licensed car-owners who use pneumatic tires now save about 20 per cent of what they last year paid for ANY make and size, whether they be Goodrich or competing brands—equal to more than $25,000,000 per year.

And, don't forget that this giant saving to car-owners was never mentioned to the public by other tire manufacturing concerns until the Goodrich "Fair-List" propaganda made it imperative that they extend the saving to consumers on their tires, or lose business to the Goodrich Co.

FALSE, OR A BAD GUESS.

A London telegram carries the news that, according to Kaiser Wilhelm the war will end in October.

London is neither the most truthful, nor the most unbiased source of war news. So it might be just as well to dismiss the alleged statement of the Kaiser with the sentence that he never made it. However, in the remote contingency that he did make it is next to as bad a bet as that by Lloyd's that the end would come in September. Lloyd's wager was made on the assumption that the Allies would win. On what basis victory was calculated so early was never stated. That it is far more remote now, to say nothing of being far more doubtful as to finally than it was some months ago, must be painfully evident to those who laid the wager. No apparent impression has been made upon the Austro-German enemy and he gives forth no sign of exhaustion. On the other hand the Kaiser's prediction is built upon the faith that Germany will win. Why so soon as October does not occur since all the indications are against that early a conclusion of hostilities. The Allies are not showing signs of exhaustion or disheartening either. The war has now been on for a little better than a year, and while it is true the indomitable combination of Germany and Austria is making marked progress in Russia, the fighting ability of the latter will not end with the capture of Warsaw, which seems not far off, and her reverses are, perhaps, more than fully offset by the entrance of Italy into the struggle. Further than that England seems to be finally awakening to the magnitude and the difficulties of the struggle and is beginning to stir herself with an activity somewhat commensurate therewith. According to a purported official report she has now considerably less than half a million men in France and Belgium. That she has not had more is, doubtless, owing as much to a lack of proper munitions for a greater force. This latter she is rapidly acquiring by purchase elsewhere and greater production of her own shops. Meantime recruiting and training are going on with a sterner intensity and before a great while she will have vast new armies in the field and completely equipped. Thus while the final outcome is no more certain than a guess as to hope or prejudice may dictate, that the war is going to go on for months and months yet, may be, for years, is about the only safe and reasonable conjecture.

ON PREDICTING RAIN.

And now comes a man with the latest dope on how to tell when it is going to rain. His name is Rollin Lynde Hart and in the August Woman's Home Companion he discourses entertainingly on "Let's Talk About the Weather." According to Mr. Hart there "are plenty of soundly scientific weather signs that are right before our eyes and vouchered for by the best meteorologists." For instance, the "ring around the moon" which is produced by a thin, filmy cloud made up of minute particles of ice—a state of things not built to last. Bitter some unlooked-for commotion will put a stop to it in a different manner, or it will pour "cats and dogs" within three days at most. In eighty-six cases out of a hundred, the rule holds good. A still better sign is the "ring around the sun."

"This is science, pure and simple, and so is the old maxim: 'The farther the sight, the nearer the rain.' It is not pessimism that makes people along the coast predict a downpour when they can pick out the separate houses on a faraway island, or people in mountainous regions, call it 'too good to last,' when a distant peak, generally invisible, comes into view. They are shrewd meteorologists in making these predictions, and also in declaring that sounds carry better when a rain storm is brewing."

"Of all nice, convincing weather signs, however, a 'sickening sky' is pretty nearly the most reliable. When the deep warm blue grows paler, and then whitish, and your spirits drop, and shadows fray at the edges and disappear, then you have a sickening sky. Rain is not being brought up ready-made from afar, it is being manufactured directly overhead."

"The color of the sky, then, is a fairly trustworthy sign in and of itself, and so is the color of the clouds. Intensely white clouds against an intensely blue sky means bright weather ahead. Grayish clouds on a lightish blue foretell rain."

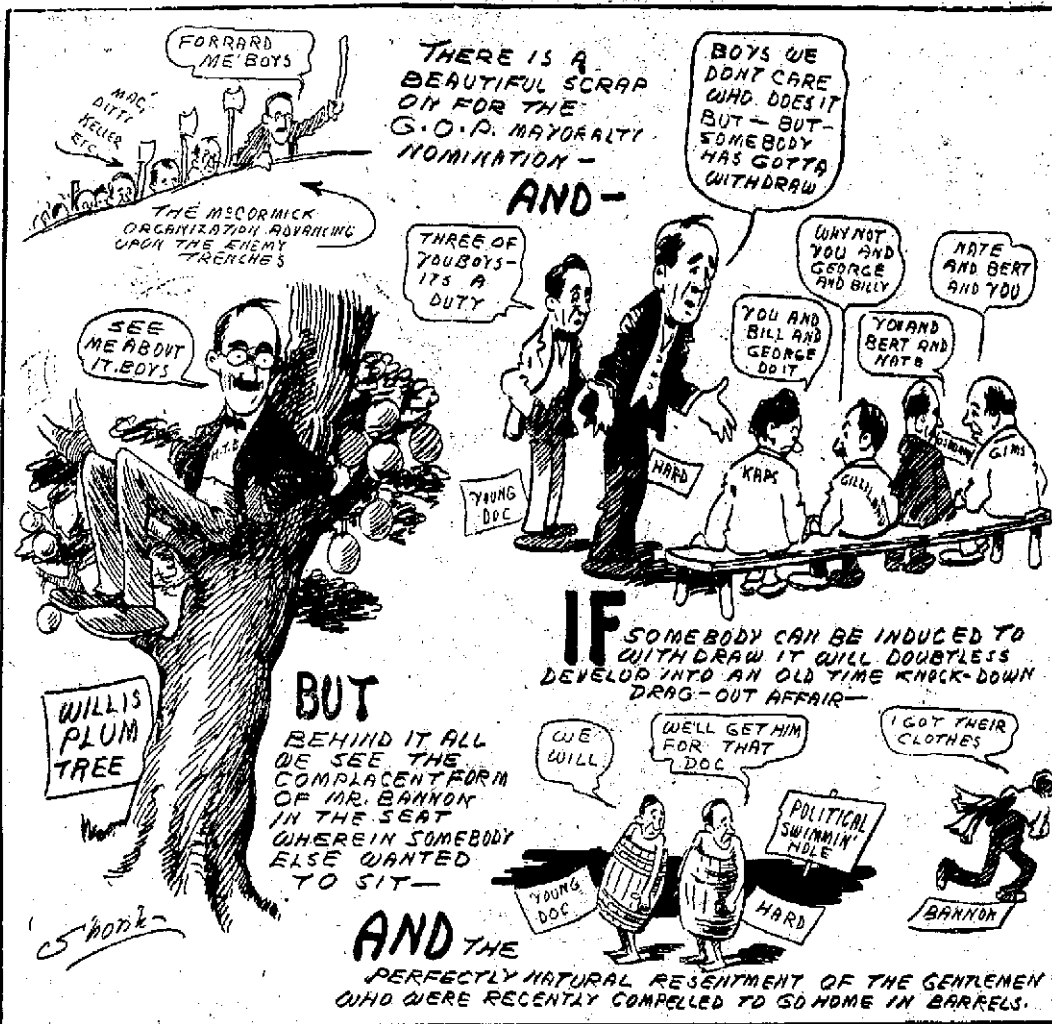

THE THAW CASE.

The Roanoke World-News man has a mild conviction fit over the Harry Thaw case. Not that having a conviction fit is anything new for the Roanoke journalist. Of all editors of our high class exchanges the Roanoke man is most subject to eruptions. When he hasn't anything else to erupt about he takes vicious swats at our old friend Demon Rum just to keep in practice for star occasions. The Thaw case comes in the light of a star case and he rises to the occasion with all the force and strength of his vocabulary. He sees the forthcoming damnation of respect for law, the triumph of the dollar over decency, the exaltation of the rone, in the outcome of the latest Thaw hearing. And our Roanoke friend closes his review in this striking language:

"What a world this is, to be sure. A few days ago a mob in Georgia cried aloud for the blood of Leo M. Frank, convicted of murder on purely circumstantial evidence. Governor Stanton, who commuted Frank's sentence, had to surround himself with soldiers to prevent the mob from tearing him to pieces. Yesterday the mob in New York went wild with joy because a confessed murderer was about to escape a just punishment for his crime. Officers had to protect Thaw to save him from a jubilant public."

"The law pretends to be a genuine establishment, a dignified guarantee of human safety and of human hopes. But Thaw has shown that law can be made a laughing stock and that justice is a burlesque when attacked by a millionaire crook. With a life of vice and passion, with a career a mockery and a shame, he deliberately shot and killed his fellow man. He knew that a trial on the merits of the case meant death in the electric chair, and so he pleaded insanity, and the plea was maintained. The trick worked beautifully, and the other trick, securing his liberty, has been turned in masterly fashion."

SIDELIGHTS ON THE G. O. P. MAYORALTY FIGHT.

AND WHO IS CAMPBELL.

Well, well, and here comes our dear friend, Rev. Z. B. Campbell, also of Ada College, and lands one of the prize plums of the Willis administration, being placed on the civil service commission. Campbell is the gentleman who is said to have paved the way for that alleged deal with the Hamilton county liquor forces by which Willis secured support of some war leaders in Hamilton county, the reverend gentleman personally going to Cincinnati and there holding conferences with certain persons. Our good young governor has denied knowledge of such activities, but he seems to have appreciated the services of Brother Campbell to such an extent that he gives him a fat office.

It is also a pleasure to note the presence of our old friend S. D. Webb, of Albany, Athens county, as the Blue Democrat on the new board. Webb is the citizen who tried to manage the Girls' Industrial Home at Delaware and made such a botch of it that the legislature changed the law so that a woman could be placed at the head of the institution, thereby enabling Governor Harmon to get rid of Webb. He has been on the grouch list ever since, fighting both Harmon and his successor, Governor Cox. He is a fitting man to shine with some of the rest of the appointees of the present governor.

The city council of New Boston ought to be ashamed of itself for permitting Gallia street, in its corporation limits, to remain in such a horrible condition. It is true that the street is to be paved but it is also true that the work will not be done this year. In the meantime the expenditure of a small sum would make the roadway decently passable for the remainder of the summer, the coming fall and the coming winter. Why not put a scraper and a couple of trusty men to work leveling up the road, and then send a roller over it.

The only chance we see for the Hon. G. Ditty to connect with that office is for him to beg, borrow or steal a diploma from Ada College. But, oh, happy thought! Why not borrow that one that Young Doc Sellards has turned to the wall since Henry Bannon crowded him off the map as the local advisor of the governor?

Why is it, that people who boast of always telling the truth, never have any good to say of anybody or anything. Is truth ever mean and ugly? We do not think so. On the contrary our belief is that truth ever the loveliest and sweetest. For real truth, like charity, covers a multitude of sins, and if it can say no good it will not speak evil.

A physician swore Thaw was not insane, he is simply afflicted with "constitutional inferiority." We agree to let it go at that, if they will just let the fellow go so we may be done with him.

What does it count to be the original-Willis-man if the good young Governor opens his ear only to some other fellow? Respectfully referred to young Doc Sellards for solution.

Some things surely do go by contraries. Here had it been dry as a powder horn down here all week and yet came the news Friday morning that a great flood was rushing down the Scioto. It looks like the corn in the lower part of the valley may suffer this time and may be the temporary bridge again moves with it.

Been some mighty fine corn growing weather, for sure.

The more we look at the career of the Cincinnati Reds in the east, the more we become puzzled that they did not jump at the proposal that they take the wandering franchise in the Ohio State League.

We are not going to join in the fracas ourselves and when the present war is over all the belligerents, no matter what the result, will have had enough to surfboard them for a generation to come. Think then of the waste, the folly of going about placing this country on a fighting basis in the world.

He said he was from Syria, as he came into the office and unfolded a beautiful robe cloth, imported, six dollars, said he. Made in Hobeoken. One dollar, said the scribe. Make it four. One dollar. Yours. But we did not buy.

The Columbus State Journal hazards the opinion that a corset may be as warm as pants which raises the question does it suppose they are worn on same part of the anatomy.

TURN ON THE LIGHT.

Roanoke, claiming a population of 42,000, 32,000 white and 10,000 negro, has six parks, all for the exclusive use of the whites, since with the strong color line in Virginia negroes do not find themselves welcome at any. Appreciating the injustice of such a situation, the World-News pleads for a park exclusively for the colored people.

That's no more than fair, of course, and hardly as much as that, but it affords the World-News opportunity to descend on the beauties and benefits of parks. Somehow, though we can not bring ourselves into hearty concurrence with it for to us there seems a mighty lot of buncombe on the whole matter of them. Take our situation, for illustration. We can recall the day when agitation for the conversion of what is now York Place, into a public park was going on and there was brave talk of how much as such it would bring us back to nature, promote the general health and work divers and sundry other wonders. Of a verity, we have a distinct impression that this earnest and effective guardian of the public weal was first and foremost in this sort of gab. Well, the park is there, and what about it. In the afternoons of summer days, a more or less numerous bunch of kids go down to the lower end of it to play base ball, and in the short hour between sunset and dark a few persons sit about on the benches. That is right and good, but it isn't enough. Many decent people taboo the place in the evening because they are both ashamed and afraid to go therein, and what is said of it, in this respect, can be as well said also of the only other park, Tracy. This ought not to be, to be sure, it just is. The way for it to be is to light up the place, so evil can find not the unblushing shame of darkness and a policeman ought to be around often enough to guard against the noise and the profanity, to say nothing of the vulgarity of speech, that is altogether too common in public in this town.

We may summarize by saying we are a great people to get something for the public welfare and uplift and heartedly do we berate the one who ever so mildly suggests there may be some drawbacks to it, but having once gotten it, our interest ceases, comes to a dead pause. It never occurs to us that profit is in use, not in the mere possession.

A Texas paper is much grieved because Vic Huerta would rather be mixed up in another Mexican revolution, rather than be confined in its state. Possibly, the editor has never been in either, but Vic has tried both and as an expert he knows which is the worse of two evils.

The English are pluming themselves on the fact that they have captured an empire in Africa. Sure enough they have, but they could gladly trade its four million or so square miles for four hundred feet on the sand hills of Belgium and throw in several hundred dead soldiers to boot.

As the wise Huntington Herald-Dispatch sees it, the most unprofitable base ball is about the least profitable thing a community can have. Its community is going to prove it by tasting the pudding.

Perhaps, just because they are something akin, the talk about wet and dry election has been pretty animated for this torrid spell.

The NEW YORK

New York, July 17.—Pink and put another hook on the V. Hayes was lounging about in one of those deep seagoing chairs in the lobby of a big Broadway hotel the other day when he heard a man discussing Russian names. He worked himself into a terrible rage about them.

"They are actually outlandish," he told his companion. "I can't see any excuse for them at all. In a list of Russian aviators I saw such names as Ovatschski, Putchovitch and Petrovintzoezki. It was a scream."

"Mr. Pippy!" paged a bell-boy.

"Here I am," said the man.

Don Marquis, the Evening Sun columnist, has no sympathy at all with the people who pretend that they are unable to understand the work of the Imagist or poly-rhythmic or vers libre bards.

These dissenters, he says, do not devote enough thought to the matter. They are mentally lazy and do not seek long enough for the spiritual significance of the new art.

For instance what could be plainer than this, he quotes from the new poem by Mina Loy:

I must live in my lantern,
Trimming subliminal flicker
Virginia! to the bellows
Of Experience—colored glass.

Al. H. Woods, who used to be a newsboy, the other day purchased from the widow of Alfred G. Vanderbilt the $15,000 car said to be the finest in New York. The car was made in England and is for two occupants and a chauffeur. It is a miniature lady's house, electrically equipped and rolls along without the slightest jar. On the door are the initials A. G. V. Mr. Woods says that he is just going to rub out the G.

Down on the Bowery, Bill Sweeney, one of the plain clothes men of the noted thoroughfare, saw two merchants begin a series of advertising in front of their stores that made it look very bad indeed for the little Hebrew carter, whose store was in between their two stores. Each day new announcements went up beside him and his trade fell off to nothing and then he became imbued with a brilliant idea. The next morning a huge sign was placed over his entrance reading: "Main Entrance."

NEW YORK STOCKS

New York July 17—With the exception of United States Steel which rose to 65, the best price of the year, all former speculative favorites were swept aside again today while the various war specialties were pushed forward to new record breaking quotations.

Chief among these was Crucible Steel which made an early gain of over 6 points, with 5 points for the preferred. Gains of 3 to 6 points were registered by Bethlehem Steel, Sloss Sheffield steel, Republic steel, General Motors and some of the more obscure industrials, including Illinois-Chambers common and preferred.

Meantime some heaviness was observed in Southern Pacific, Union Pacific and Amalgamated Copper. Reversions of 1 to 2 points from the high level occurred later. The closing was strong. Bonds were steady.

war issues, sold at its highest price in years on reports pointing at the advantageous disposal of that property. U. S. Steel was the only active leader, opening with a sale of 3,000 shares at a trifling gain. Other prominent stocks, including railways, were irregular.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS

Chicago, July 17—Strength at Liverpool had a bullish effect today on the wheat market here. Food conditions in Ohio counted also against the bears, and predictions of general showers in the harvest region and in the spring crop states as well. Besides, the overnight purchases of new wheat to arrive were said to be light. After opening 1/2 off to 1/2 up, the market scored a moderate general advance.

Corn eased down owing to a good weather for rapid growth. Selling pressure was chiefly on the December delivery. Opening prices which ranged 1/4 to 1/2 lower were followed by additional declines.

Oats took the same path as corn. The trade however, seemed to be more evenly divided than in the coarser grain. Highest hog prices of the year made provisions firm. The demand, though lacked volume. Subsequently the wheat market underwent a sharp decline due to increasing receipts here and to reports that threshing in Illinois was being rushed by double crews. The close was heavy at 7/8 to 2 1/2 under last night.

No important rally took place in corn. The close was unsettled 1/2 off to 1/2 up compared with last night.

While hundreds of Portsmouth people were sweltering in the heat of a typical July day this morning, a jovial crowd of court house officials found that lurking back to incidents that occurred when a mantle of snow covered the ground and the mercury was hovering below the zero mark had palm-leaf fans, and even electric ones; backed off the boards when it came to keeping one cool.

"The coldest day that I remember was one January morning, years ago, when I was twelve years old," said M. J. Caldwell, the popular county treasurer. "My father asked me to go to Chillicothe and ride a valuable horse that he had purchased there. I boarded an N. & W. train at Wakefield about four o'clock in the morning and went to Chillicothe, where I secured the horse and started home on horseback.

"My instructions were to ride the horse slowly, as he was a valuable piece of horse-flesh, and my father didn't want me to take any chances of having him injured. The temperature was about twelve degrees below zero, and as I neared the Divide between Chillicothe and Waverly, the cold breezes fairly whistled down the ravines on either side.

"I felt my arms and limbs becoming numb, and got off the horse and started to walk aside of him to start the circulation. I repeated this performance several times before reaching Waverly, the last time having barely enough strength to get into the saddle.

"When I arrived in front of the Emmitt House in Waverly, I had to be lifted from the saddle. I was so numb. The late James J. Emmitt, Waverly's only millionaire, was the man who carried me into the hotel where I remained for several hours before I was revived. The horse was left in Waverly and taken home several days later.

"During the ride my heels and toes were frost-bitten so badly that I was unable to wear shoes during the next spring and summer."

Probate Judge Bentley chimed in with one that was about as thrilling as that of Mr. Caldwell.

"I was teaching school at Sugar Grove, five miles on the West Side, during the winter that I had my worst experience with the cold. I came to Portsmouth one Friday evening to call upon a lady friend (the judge was single then) and remained until about eleven o'clock, leaving her house to start home on foot.

"As I passed the Corner Book Store the thermometer registered 21 degrees below zero. Not a bit daunted, I started out on foot and got along all right until I reached about half way through the cotton-woods, when I commenced to feel numb and sleepy. I trudged along until I reached the end of the cotton-woods, when I was seized with a desire to sit down and rest that I could not resist. I sat down on a log, and in a few seconds felt myself going to sleep. I had just enough presence of mind left to realize that if I went to sleep there it would be my last sleep on earth, so I roused myself and started on again, reaching home about two o'clock with my ears and wrists frozen."

Judge Bentley's recital of how he tried to keep his ears, face and hands warm all at the same time was exceedingly humorous, but he told his listeners that it was anything but funny at the time it happened.

Level Headed People

WHEN a person is reputed to be "level-headed" you can be reasonably sure that he has a savings pass book in constant action.

Level-headed people do not live each day unto itself; they take thought of tomorrow, its emergencies, its possibilities.

They don't sit down and wait, unprepared for opportunity. They get ready for opportunity, then command it.

It is by being level headed that people get on in the world. Sheer luck has little place in human progress. A plan precedes accomplishment.

Let your success plan have as its basis a savings account at this bank.

Hold your expenditures down and permit your possibilities to loom up. Be level-headed.

suitable for a young girl a wedding dress, and how would he be a nice way to make it?

BROWN EYES. Any thin white material would be suitable for a wedding dress. Look through the fashion books or have your dressmaker help you select a way to make it.

Dear Miss Wise—Did the Cincinnati Reds ever win a pennant? If so, when? Also would you go with a girl that insisted on having a dog in the house all the time? Thanking you J. G. S.

ONE WHO KNOWS. The famous Red Stockings, (now the Cincinnati Reds) won a pennant in 1889. You will have to decide the dog question for yourself. Some dogs are all right, while others are not. However, if I were going to keep a dog at all I'd keep it in the yard or house. If everybody would do this there wouldn't be so many dogs roaming the streets biting pedestrians.

Dear Miss Wise—I am just 18 and I'm very much in love with a young man a few years my senior. He has taken me out and called at my house several times, but the last time he seemed cold and distant and referred to another man, a friend of mine, whom he thought was going with me, and so he did not make any appointment with me. I feel sorry because I like him very much. I was just as cold and distant as he was. Now, do you think he cares for me? And how will I gain him back again? Please tell me, did I do right by being cold to him and how can I find a way to overcome all obstacles?

MARY. There is nothing you can do to win him back. He will come if he wants to. I don't blame you for being cold this hot weather.

Dear Miss Wise—Please tell me a nice way to cook and serve asparagus.

EAST END READER. Cut the tops from square breakfast rolls, and scrape out the crumbs, leaving the walls intact. Butter them, inside and out, and set them with the tops in the oven to dry and brown lightly. Boil asparagus tips in salted water and drain. Have ready a sauce made by cooking together a tablespoon of butter with one of flour, and adding a cup of milk, scalding hot. Cook for a minute, stirring all the time; season with pepper and salt and add the asparagus tips. Fill the hollowed rolls with the mixture, fit on the tops, and set in the oven just long enough to make them hot. They make a delicious luncheon dish or entrée at a dinner party. What are known as French rolls are best for this dish.

Dear Miss Wise—Could you kindly tell me what to do to get rid of mosquitoes in the house? We have screens, but they come in anyhow, especially by night. What is the best thing that would give a good odor in the house? M. M.

Fumigate with sulphur. Place the sulphur on a hot stove plate and carry it from one room to the other, closing everything up tight for a half day or longer. If there are stagnant pools of water or wet places in the cellar or around the house, pour petroleum oil on them allowing it to stand. To keep them from the body, use citronella oil, rubbing it on the hands and face before retiring. Oil of pennyroyal is also good to keep the pests away. Lavender makes a nice odor through the house. Put it in chests, drawers, on linens and between sheets, etc.

Inquirer—Try bleaching your napkins. Wet in cold water and lay in hot sun without wringing. Repeat until dye disappears, or boil in water to which a little cleasine or soap powder has been added. Oxalic acid might take it out.

A Good Talcum

is a necessity in the boudoir as well as in the nursery. Its uses are innumerable. It adds to the baby's as well as the mother's comfort and personal cleanliness. It gives a velvety touch to the skin after shaving. In hot weather it is indispensable.

Oriental Talcum Powders have the two chief requisites of a fine talcum—they are ground to impalpable fineness and they are absolutely free from any irritating property. NO EXTENSIVE DAMAGE FROM SCIOTO IS FEARED

RIVER BARELY OUT OF BANKS AT CHILlicothe; SMALL RISE AT JASPER

The Times called up Chillicothe at 3 p. m. and at that hour the Scioto was 10 feet and rising slowly. The river was expected to begin falling there by night. It was falling at all points above that city, it was stated. The very low bottoms around Chillicothe are inundated but damage is small. The water was not entirely over the gravel bar over which many autoists are accustomed to driving en route to Columbus.

Word from John Dewey, of Jasper, at 3:30 p. m. was that the Scioto was rising 2 to 3 inches per hour there and a stage of 10 feet expected. He said the Scioto was keeping close to its bank and all creeks in that vicinity were low and very little corn would be damaged. He said it was all headwater and he did not anticipate much of a freshet.

Forecaster Smith, of Columbus, wired from Columbus that the Scioto there at one o'clock Saturday afternoon was 16.8 feet and falling slowly.

Direct reports to The Times from United States Weather Observer J. Warren Smith at Columbus at 9:30 Saturday morning showed the Scioto river falling at Columbus, Ohio, with no prospects of additional water from the upper watersheds. At Circleville the water is rising and it is predicted will continue to rise until some time tonight. At Chillicothe it is predicted the river will continue to rise until sometime Sunday afternoon while at Portsmouth the rise will continue until some time Monday morning.

Below Columbus the rise will be steady but slow and the only damage will be to the outlying bottom lands, according to the weather observer.

After reaching a stage of 18.1 foot at Columbus the river began to recede at midnight Friday. Saturday morning at 9:30 it had fallen to a stage of 17.6 and was falling steadily. Seventeen feet is the danger point at Columbus.

No more water is coming from the upper water sheds according to Mr. Smith. Marion, Ohio had an inch rain fall Friday night but this will not affect the local rise. The Scioto river is falling steadily at all points above Columbus.

Stages of 15 feet at Circleville and 18 feet at Chillicothe are predicted. The crest of the rise will pass Portsmouth Monday morning.

Water Slow In Reaching Here

The sudden and big rise caused in the upper Scioto river by heavy rains in Central Ohio is slow in reaching Portsmouth and the looked for mad rush of waters will hardly materialize.

The Scioto first commenced running out lightly here Saturday morning about 9:30. It was reported running heavier at Lancaster and the crest should reach here some time Sunday.

Tears Up Bridge Floor

Henry Ruel has made all preparations, having taken up all flooring of the center section of the temporary bridge which was closed to travel Friday night at 9 o'clock. He left 100 ft. of flooring on the east side and 240 ft. on the west side untouched. The 240 ft. taken up is in the section of the bridge that has gone out several times. He figured he could reach the piling and other material still standing and drag it back up the river after it is swept away cheaper than by putting his men to work tearing it up. He can also restore the bridge section in less time than it could be taken up. He announces that if the water is done Sunday he will restore the bridge in six hours' time and have it open for travel again at the usual hour, 4 o'clock Monday morning. It took his men 16 hours to take up the center flooring. He will not risk in staffing a derrick there to save the material left standing in the center.

Mr. Ruel is ferrying foot passengers with his gasoline boat, 11 ft. and a flat boat. He felt hopeful Saturday that the rise will not hurt this section to any extent.

Official Dispatch

Captain Harry Donnelly, local river observer, received the following message from J. Warren Smith, U. S. observer at Columbus, Saturday morning: "Highest water Columbus 18 ft. Falling now. Will rise at Portsmouth until Monday and will overflow lowlands."

WOMAN FOUND DEAD IN BED

Retiring in her usual good health Friday evening, Mrs. Amanda Hockaden, wife of Christopher Hockaden, prominent farmer of Otway, slept the sleep that knows no awakening, as she was found dead in bed Saturday morning. It is thought death resulted from heart trouble. Coroner Dr. Walter Daehler was called to Otway this morning to make an investigation of Mrs. Hockaden's sudden death.

When Mrs. Hockaden failed to get up at her usual hour this morning it was thought that she was possibly sleeping a little longer than usual and was not disturbed. When she failed to get up for breakfast at 7 o'clock Mr. Hockaden went to his wife's room to arouse her, but he found the task a futile one as the spark of life had fled. His faithful life partner was in the embrace of death.

Mrs. Hockaden was born in Scioto county 65 years ago and practically all her life had lived near Otway. In addition to her husband she is survived by eleven children as follows: John, Truman, George of Tampa, Fla.; Ira, Milton, Charles, Clarence, Mrs.

Elizabeth Freeland, Mrs. Rosa Bakston, Mrs. Ida McMillan and Miss Edith Hockaden. Two children have preceded their mother to the unknown world. Hazelbecker.

The funeral will be held from the Christian church at Otway, Monday morning at 9 o'clock, conducted by the minister, Rev. Runyan. Burial in the Otway cemetery.

SELF-STYLED MILLIONAIRE IS A CHAMPAGNE LOVER; WANTED TO SELL BILLY SUNDAY BOOK

HELD TO GRAND JURY ON ONE CHARGE; JITNEY CASE COMES UP MONDAY

William Biggs, the self-styled capitalist and steel mill promoter, who created quite a stir by hiring laborers and foremen right and left for a big plant he was to locate at Wheelersburg, was arraigned in police court Saturday morning.

Biggs on the advice of Attorney Mark A. Crawford, waived the right of reading the affidavit of J. D. Copley, charging him with obtaining $25 from him under false pretenses and pleaded not guilty. He was bound over to the grand jury in the sum of $500. His arraignment on the other affidavit filed by Albion Z. Blair, Jr., who alleges he falsely misrepresented himself and who claims $11 is still due him from Biggs for "Jitney" bus hire, was continued until Monday to give him an opportunity to communicate with relatives or friends who might be disposed to come to his rescue.

Mr. Crawford informed the court that he had heard nothing further in answer to the messages he had sent out for Biggs. He offered to wire to his wife at Pittsburgh, but Biggs asked him not to do so. The mayor, after court, however, directed Clerk Dennis Coriell to write a letter to Mrs. Biggs informing her of her husband's plight.

Biggs insisted he is O. K. Biggs looking pale, haggard and unkempt was the picture of distress. He seemed chiefly concerned about proving his standing by his wealth of credentials, letters and contract papers, but the mayor told him no one took such "junk" seriously. He assured him he was disposed to help him out of his predicament but he could best pave the way for his release by raising $50 or $60 to settle up his just obligations. He told him that he would not attempt to hold him responsible for the loss of time he had caused the men he had hired for his proposed steel plant but would insist upon him meeting his other just claims.

The court said nothing would be gained by holding Biggs to the grand jury, for confirmed drug fiend that he has proven to be had convinced him that he was irresponsible and more to be pitied.

CHAMP CLARK FAVORS MORE PREPAREDNESS

San Francisco, July 17.—Champ Clark, speaker of the House of Representatives, was inspired by the reception of the Liberty Bell here today to discuss the need of greater military preparedness to preserve to citizens of the United States that liberty of which the bell is an historic symbol.

In the course of his remarks, he said: "I differ with the proponents of 'Peace at any price.' That is an amazing, a demoralizing, a degrading doctrine.

"On the other hand I am utterly opposed to those who advocate a large standing army, and to those who advocate a navy equal to the two biggest navies in the world. I am not a jingo. God forbid I hope most profoundly there will never be another war—particularly another to which we are a party, but knowing that human nature has not changed a jot or little since Adam and Eve were driven with flaming swords from Paradise, I am in favor of putting the country in such posture that if war should for any reason become necessary we may emerge from it as conquerors, as we have been in all our wars.

"Towards the consummation of this plan I am in favor of doubling the number of cadets at West Point and of making it obligatory upon the Secretary of War to detail an army officer to any school, college or university, which will furnish a minimum of two hundred students to drill. In that way and at the least possible cost we would in a few years have enough drilled men to officer a volunteer army of a million soldiers, if needs be.

"In fact there would be wisdom in a scheme by which in addition to the cadets educated free by the government at West Point and Annapolis, any boy possessing the prescribed qualifications might on reasonable terms be educated at those two great institutions. The surplus West Pointers could be used to advantage in drilling the youths of the land, while the surplus naval graduates would make splendid officers for the great merchant marine which President Wilson and some of the rest of us are determined to place upon the high seas from which our flag has almost entirely disappeared.

"We should also have a well drilled, and well equipped National Guard to be used for strictly national purposes on the principle enunciated by Thomas Jefferson, a well disciplined militia—our best reliance in peace and for the first moments of war, till regulars may relieve them.

"It seems that if little Switzerland can mobilize in a few days an army of half a million well drilled men by means of her system of military education and discipline—the cheapest system known among men and sufficiently effective—we could by such application of her system as fits our case, in a year or two, be able to mobilize an army of two millions of well disciplined men at a cost which to us would be a mere bagatelle—which would be a most effective insurance for this country and all her citizens and their interests."

tion of the Lusitania's speed which still left the vessel faster than any other boat on the Atlantic and Baron Mersey said he found there was no reason to blame the Cunard company for this economy during war times.

Baron Mersey in handing down judgment said in part:

"The captain of the ship, Mr. Thomas Turner, gave his evidence truthfully and well. I am quite satisfied that the two captains and the officers are competent men and that they did their duty. Captain Turner remained on the bridge till he was swept into the sea and Captain Anderson was working on deck until he went overboard and drowned."

The court here praised Leslie Morton, a member of the crew, who stopped at New York and was acting as steamer lookout man at the time the Lusitania was torpedoed, saying:

"He was only 13 years but he seems to have exhibited great courage, self-possession and resource. He was the first to observe the approach of the torpedo boat and before they had touched the ship he had reported them to the bridge by means of a telephone."

Though knocked off his feet when a torpedo hit the Lusitania and later having to swim for his life, Lord Mersey said, the youth, aided by a member of the crew named Parry, righted a collapsible boat and was instrumental in saving nearly a hundred lives.

The court here analyzed the passenger list giving the saved and lost by sex and nationality and commenting on the lack of a general order among them.

He added: "Some passengers assisted in launching the boats and in my opinion they did more harm than good. It is, however, quite impossible to impose any blame on them. They were all working for the best. The cargo was a general cargo, of the ordinary kind but part consisted of a cargo of cartridges, about 5,000. This ammunition was stowed well forward on the upper and lower decks, and was about fifty yards away from where the torpedo struck the ship."

Lord Mersey then reiterated that the Lusitania carried no

GERMANS ATTACK LINER

hurriedly fastened haphazardly they made for the upper deck. They were assembled near the bridge. Life belts were adjusted and life boats swung out. The crew stood ready to launch the boats. From a submarine off the starboard quarter there came a shell which kicked up a miniature geyser in the Orduna's wake. The submarine had the range. Captain Taylor turned the stern of the ship toward the assailant and ordered full speed ahead.

Within from two to five minutes another shell, this time passing over the heads of the assembled passengers was fired. As it over-shot the mark its landing place was marked by a rising column of water. A third shell passed overhead and so close that it seemed to clip a life boat. Captain Taylor ordered the passengers to go to a lower deck. They obeyed and the life boats were adjusted lower still so that the passengers might step into them without delay. The shelling continued, shots falling about the steamer at intervals of from two to five minutes. For about half an hour the submarine pursued the liner with the span of water between them lengthening each minute. Seven shots were fired in all. Four of them passed over the decks. The other three fell close to the ship. Then the submarine, distanced, gave up the chase.

Early risers who had left their berths to enjoy the morning were with the captain on the bridge when the attack began and witnessed the entire episode. Among them was Baron Marcus Rosenkrantz of Denmark, who married Miss Rebie Love of Atlanta, Ga. The baroness was with him on the trip but did not witness the attack.

"Ask the passengers what happened," Captain Taylor said when the Orduna docked here today. "I am attached to the Royal Naval Reserve and therefore cannot discuss the matter. Ask Baron Rosenkrantz; he saw the whole thing."

"But there is one question Captain Taylor that you can answer and you alone, were you attacked without warning?"

"I did not have even the slightest warning of the attack," he replied.

A few of the families driven from their homes by the flood have been able to return. Late reports from the Scioto march indicate that the entire onion crop together with corn and potatoes planted later is a total loss.

The damage in this vicinity is estimated at $300,000.

Lima, O., July 17.—Ottawa river at Lima has dropped as rapidly as it arose and by tomorrow will be at normal level.

Members of the city service department are still stationed at the bridges keeping wreckage from piling up. Limited traffic has been permitted across all bridges.

Families are coming down from higher land and moving back into their houses in the lowlands. In portions of the city not touched by the flood much damage was done to flooded cellars where articles stored were ruined.

Late last night the police were called to rescue a half-dozen families marooned on a small island. The force of the water was weakening their houses and they feared they would be swept down stream.

Damage at Harrod, 8 miles east of Lima was also severe. Fifteen houses were damaged or demolished and the Methodist church was destroyed. Damage to it will amount to thousands of dollars.

Several large factories in this city remained closed today on account of the flood. It was estimated that more than 1,000 men were temporarily thrown out of employment.

The damage throughout central Ohio will mount into the millions as thousands of acres of wheat and oats have been ruined, corn and other crops washed away.

At Delaware the Olentangy river and Alum creek were receding today and normal conditions were in prospect. The Muskingum and Licking rivers which went on the rampage yesterday were reported falling today.

Local German's View Of European War

(Written by Louis F. Korth, former Editor of The Correspondent.)

Friday, July 16, 1915.

War events in the west are overshadowing those in the east for the present. It is the drive to Calais in French-Flanders and the drive to Paris through the Argennes. In both the Germans have made new headway this week. While everybody had his eyes on South Poland, where Petrograd, the reliable, had the archduke on the run again, they sprung a surprise on us by new bold moves in the Arras and Verdun regions.

It will be remembered how General Joffre in the second week of May started a big offensive on the line Arras-Neuville, saying in general orders: "This time it was not the capture of a few trenches and a couple hundred prisoners he was after, but to break the German front and drive the enemy out of Belgium."

He failed in both, but what he could not do at one stroke he tried to accomplish by daily furious battering. In bloody combat and with terrible losses he did gain meter by meter, if not miles, and at last by a daring general assault he took the important heights at Souchez.

The Germans, being the weakest, held on as much as they could until the French had exhausted themselves, and on Saturday last attacked on the whole Arras-La Bassée front, taking the Souchez cemetery and Cabaret Rouge Heights, which command the French supply road to Bethune, by storm.

While the fighting in Flanders and in the Argennes, from where the German Crownprince again reports victory with thousands of prisoners and the closing in on Verdun from three sides, was going against the Allies Petrograd gave out for consolation that the German-Austrian campaign in Southern Poland had come to a complete standstill, the Archduke Joseph Ferdinand, being too impetuous in his advance, had lost touch with Mackensen, was trapped in the woods north of Krasnik, where some twenty thousand prisoners were taken, his army surrounded and half cut up. That the archduke, an old tactician, knowing strong forces ahead of him, should have failed to carefully reconnoitre seemed incredible, and today it is admitted by Petrograd that a skirmish, a feeler on the part of the Austrians, was magnified into a great battle. The battle is to come off yet. The Teutonic armies in Southern Poland have formed a junction from Krasnik, south of Lublin and Ivangorod, east to Chelm on the railroad to Brest-Litovsk, on which Mackensen is now operating. Ivangorod and Litvsk are the two fortresses covering Warsaw to the south.

To the north and west of Vistula and Warsaw Hindenburg has everywhere taken the offensive again, on the Njemen, the Bobre and the Narew. He has taken Prasnitz on the road to Novo Georgievsk, the fortress immediately north of Warsaw, by storm, has closed in on Osoviecz, which controls the Russian Bobre line, and is active in the direction of Lomsha and Ostroleka.

When you read the self-confident battle-bulletins of Generalissimo Count Luigi di Cadorna it appears that the Italians are sweeping everything before them in the Tyrol and Carinthian Alps and in the Adriatic coastland, as if the natural mountain fastnesses without the strong frontier fortifications would not preclude any quicksteps, and you wonder that they have not taken Trent and Trieste by this time, but we learn by way of Switzerland, which joins the Trentino to the south, that the Austrians have now perfected their concentration (Aufmarsch) and although inferior in numbers have the advantage of strategic positions. Vienna does not acknowledge defeat but to the contrary asserts that the Austrians not only have blocked the Italians in the Isone Valley but are operating on Italian territory already. Official Vienna statements do not confirm this however.

From the Dardanelles we hear by way of Athens that the Allies have made another assault by land and water on the Gallipoli peninsula. They say they captured two positions on the hills north of Krithia, an important point, and that their fleet bombarded the lower forts in the straits and on the southern end of the peninsula again.

The Turks claim that they took some of the works of the Allies at Sed-el-Bahr and destroyed their landing bridge in Tepe Burnu. The British bombardment was ineffectual. Constantinople official states "Heavy attacks on our right and left wing by the Allies, supported by fire from their fleet, were repulsed with heavy losses to them."

According to advices of the Turkish war office the Russians have withdrawn heavy forces in the Caucasus and are on the retreat. A division of Cossacks, covering it, was defeated.

About a naval engagement on the Euphrates between British and Turkish gunboats, the Admiralty in Constantinople, at the head of which is the German Commodore Weber, reports: "The British fleet, coming from the gulf, attempted to enter the river under cover of night. Her movements were known however and she sailed into a trap. Our victory was decisive."

The German papers admit the surrender of the German troops under Governor Seitz and Colonel Francke in Southwest Africa to Colonel Botha of the British South Africa Union, who during the Boer war was in Berlin trying to enlist the help of Germany against his present master. The Germans were surrounded in the desert by far superior numbers and had spent all their ammunition in previous fights. They had no water and no supplies. Their surrender in that condition after a year's warfare without help from home does not surprise us. It is a wonder that they held out so long. German East Africa is holding out. Since the decided German victory at Tanga there has been comparative quiet in that district.

The German raider Koenigsberg, which was chased last fall by a British squadron into the jungles of the Rufiji river, German Southeast Africa, where his ships could not follow him, has at last been destroyed by a British lightdraught cruiser and two river monitors after a very brave fight. It was not surrendered.

120,000 coal miners are out on a wage-strike in Wales from where the British navy draws its fuel supply, defying the government and its threat to apply the new munitions act to them under which they can be fined $15 a day or imprisoned for refusal to work. If the British government enforces the act, which means conscription, there will be revolution.

The San Francisco Call publishes accounts of fighting within a few miles of Calcutta, India. Riots are also said to have occurred in Ceylon, but accounts differ as to the cause. In consequence all over India the British civil and non-military official population has been enrolled and armed for defense.

"As soon as King Otto of Greece has recovered from his illness he and the kings of Roumania and Bulgaria will meet at his capital, re-establish the Balkan league and end the war by finishing Russia and Serbia" the generally well informed and reliable Frankfurter Zeitung learns from authoritative sources as it asserts. Roumania is acting under pressure but Greece and Bulgaria have been won over by Germany.

The Serbian press openly charges England with having sold Serbia to win over Italy now that Russia, Serbia's backer, is out of the play. Serbia will not make peace with Austria it says, but will not fight her any more than necessary to save herself and get the best terms, above all an outlet to the Adriatic Sea where Italy crosses her. Much the same feeling as in Serbia exists in Greece for like reasons.

Although Italy has had ten months to prepare for war Rome is already waiting about the shortage of ammunition and a large number of industrial establishments have been enlisted for the manufacture of it. This does not come from Berlin or Vienna but from the Italian capital.

Of the neutral powers Holland and Switzerland have been hit worst by the war. The immense carrying trade of the Dutch has been ruined by the blockade of Germany, and the German and Austrian market for coffee, tobacco, sugar, rice and cocoa has been crippled almost to extinction. Germany and Austria have been Holland's best customers for these things.

A correspondent in Tokio writes to an Eastern paper that the Japanese military men admire the Germans for their pluck while the naval men are lost in astonishment at the paralysis, which seems to have come over the British fleet. England is called a Yuvamushi, a weak one. What could she possibly do for Japan, if it needed her help, is asked.

Speaking of the enormous war burdens which Great Britain has assumed and defending her against the reproach of her continental friends that she is buying herself off with money the London Economist says: "You can't finance three big military powers and at the same time put large armies into the field. We can only do one or the other if we don't want to ruin ourselves. Large as they are there is a limit to our resources."

The British foreign office now not only admits that British merchantmen are armed but also that trade between the United States and England has been carried on by armed British vessels ever since the war began, as cabled from London. England thus contradicts the assertions made by her friends in the states and confesses to a breach of international law.

In a conference meeting of the financial ministers of the German states all agreed that the financial and economic situation of the empire remains a very favorable one and would enable the nation to continue the war until her perfect security has been established.

Harvesting has begun in Germany. The Cologne Gazette states that the wheat, rye and oats crop is above the average. An exceptionally large fruit crop is expected.

Jules Ilerve, one of the most popular writers in Paris, says in the Guerre Sociale: "The French people are becoming desperate after eleven months of unsuccessful warfare. We are longing for good news from the front. If the situation is not relieved God knows what may happen."

There are thousands of Italians working in the Rhenish-Westphalian industrial districts, who have found a home there and choose to stay instead of fighting against their adopted country. The Prussian government has guaranteed them safety and protection.

At the big Zeppelin works in Friedrichshafen on Lake Constance six giant aeroplanes have just been finished with eight motors and four propellers each. They carry four machine guns and have a crew of twenty men.

According to Rotterdam advices quite a scare has been occasioned in London by the appearance of one of the new German airships on the coast of Kent.

The big powder factory at Romslo, England, was destroyed by an explosion, whether by accident or incendiarism is not known.

Fine crops in Turkey, Constantinople says the government has furnished harvester machines for quick work to the farmers.

The big war has opened the eyes of the world to the part played by the artillery in it to the large numbers of batteries and guns of the most modern type, the vast supplies of ammunition especially. Conservative military men have been astounded. General Mackensen had more guns massed in a single sector in the battle on the Duna than the whole United States artillery has.

Eighty-four civilians were killed or wounded by the French flyer-fleet which attacked Karlsruhe, the capital of Baden, an open town.

During the invasion of East Prussia 24 towns, 572 villages, 236 large estates and 33,553 buildings were destroyed by the Russians, 1,280 civilians were killed and 433 wounded. 5,419 men, 2,587 women and 2,119 children were carried off as established by research of the provincial authorities.

Berlin contradicts a London story that the Hamburg-American S. S. Co. had been forced into bankruptcy by her enormous losses through the war. Few of her ships or those of the Lloyd (Bremen) were in home harbors when the storm broke out. If there was any intention or fear of war in Germany they would have been in safe places, director Ballin said some time ago.

By official statistics of the German army medical authorities 91 per cent of the wounded sent out of the field to the home hospitals have been returned for service to the front again. Thanks to the efficiency of the medical and hospital corps, we may add.

The loss of officers in proportion to that of the rank and file in the British army is one to seven, a higher figure than in any other army. In April, May and June 5,400 English officers have fallen on the different battlefields where British troops were engaged according to their own casualties lists.

The Chicago packing houses have represented to the state department that Great Britain is interfering with trade in a manner to ruin it and to cause the loss of millions to farmers and consumers. Fourteen millions worth of their goods consigned to neutral ports are now held up in British price courts. It is the old question of the freedom of the seas for which the United States is to stand, and the department of state is now taking hold of the matter. Two separate notes are to be sent, one specific one about the complaint of the packers and one on the general subject of interference with neutral trade. The Cincinnati Enquirer says: "It is up to the government now to strike and strike hard for our freedom of the seas. The United States will not submit to unjust, illegal and injurious regulation of its commerce by any Power."

TWO OCTOROONS CAUSE NEAR RIOT

Roma and Cora Mullins, two Octoroons, were the cause of a near riot in the North End early Saturday morning.

The girls and two white men left the street fair grounds together in an automobile, which, according to police report, bore the license tag of 13,371. When they returned to Bucktown about 1:40 a. m., some colored men attacked their white companions, one of them making a gun-play. The white men succeeded in escaping. Police ordered the two sisters to appear in court. The gun, which was thrown away in the approach of officers, was later identified as the property of Will Adkins, a negro.

WANTS LIGHTER ATTIRE FOR CITY POLICEMEN

Chief W. T. McCarty expects to take up the matter of more comfortable summer attire for patrolmen with John Linck, the newly appointed safety director, next Monday.

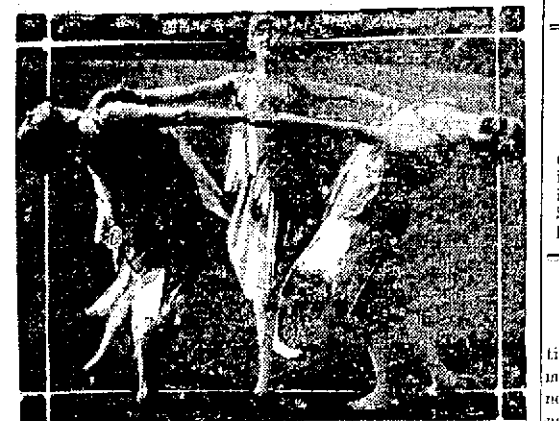

The chief believes it hardly advisable for the men to appear in shirt sleeves and carry their gun holsters exposed, so will probably recommend the adoption of light linen duster coats. Dealers are beginning to submit samples.

An Attractive Bungalow—By John Henry Newson

This plan is one that has been built a number of times with varied exteriors. The general arrangement is one that is compact and is as small as a house can be built and still keep all of the salient and important points of a well appointed home. In this small plan it will be noted that a cold room is provided, with a kitchen porch, ample sized and fully equipped kitchen, grade landing to the basement from the exterior and from the kitchen, a small reception hall with a coat closet off it and with the dining room and living room opening nicely into each other. The second floor has three good bedrooms and a bath and at the end of the hall is provided a linen closet, while the main bedroom on the front has a balcony over the front porch. This is undoubtedly one of our best plans for a small house.

This design has been built a number of times for $2300, with hardwood floors, hardwood trim on the first floor, Georgia pine trim in the bedrooms, complete hot air heating plant and good plumbing fixtures. It is one of the few complete houses which can be built under $2500. Under favorable conditions it could be built for $2000, and in no event should the cost exceed $2500.

JOYOUS RALLY IN NINTH DEFEATS THE SENATORS

Portsmouth Cops Friday's Game 2-1; Team Plays Today

WHEN Pitcher Hancock blazed one through the alley with a 3 and 2 combination on Harry Daubert, brilliant shortstop of the Charleston Senators in Friday's Portsmouth-Charleston game at Millbrook, Daubert laid the ash to the globe and when picked up it reposed gently in a clump of small trees, just outside of the park. It was one of those luscious over-the-garden-wall shots and was the only run scored by the Senatorial aggregation flying the flag of the Beers tribe.

For eight long prettily played innings it looked like the one run would win the game for Portsmouth during this time had been held scoreless, despite the fact that Beers lifted Pitcher Coffindaffer in the sixth and trotted out Henderson, a tall well built chap, who had a good curve ball, but was a trifle wild. The switch in heavens proved the undoing of the Senators as the winning runs were made off Henderson and he gets credit for losing the old ball game.

When Coffindaffer dripping with perspiration retired to the cooling shade of the dugout his team had a one run lead, in fact it possessed the one lonesome tally that had been scored, the aforesaid fence clout of one said Mr. Daubert, whose specialty is being lined by Umpire Pfitman. By way of disgruntlement at this point let it be uttered gently, but truthfully that Daubert has been fined $75 this season by Pfitman. Daubert has arranged to pay it just as soon as Charleston wins a pennant. Of course there need be no worry on Mr. Daubert's part.

But returning to said game Portsmouth put over the tying run in the ninth and then Manager Spencer, weary of battling any longer than the stipulated nine innings, promptly drove in Outfielder McHenry with the winning run and then everybody ducked to the cooling breezes of city-bound street cars.

It was a magnificently played game, the first offering cleanly to and but for an exceedingly close play at second the Senators would have perhaps wound up their day's work scoring a shut out over the best little team in the league and one in which H-A-M-O-N-Y is written in capital letters. Umpire Colgate called sharply and in the ninth on a hit sent shore and the Senators thought he should have been called out. Of course they can't be blamed for that but what Colgate said stood and Portsmouth promptly proceeded to win the game. The only time Charleston had a chance to score was in the second when Daubert faced the pit of the lot.

Ray Hancock kept putting lots of plunk on the horsehide and he had as big a change of pace as the fair, fat volatile Eva Tanguay. He held the Senators to five bingles, struck out four, secured two hits himself and his meal ticket was punched.

When Portsmouth went to the bat in the ninth a black cat chased across the field. The stuff was off. The Senators had been lined.

Getting hold of one on the inside corner in this frame Sherman cracked it over to knock it down he promptly "kneed" the ball into a two-sacker, the ball bounding past the foul line. Sherman then took third, and a seal on the bag. When Troutman threw out Johnson, Sr. Howdy Caton, of sweet fame, then sent Nutter after in center for his left and after the catch Sherman came home, no play being made for him at the plate. Then Adams county earned "undying fame as McHenry zipped one to center, annexed second and scampered to third when Beers' good throw evaded Daubert. With one ball on him Spencer fouled the next one and it came off the bat and straight into the pit of the stomach. Spencer dropped to the ground, there being no other place to drop to. He was given a drink of ice water and was fanned by the cluster of perspiring athletes who hemmed him in.

Just to show his gratefulness Mr. Spencer jumped to his feet, grabbed his bat, stepped into the batters' box and

BASEBALL

Philadelphia, July 17.—With the disposal of Eddie Murphy to the Chicago White Sox yesterday, only eight of the sixteen members of the Philadelphia Athletics who participated in the world's series games with the Boston Nationals last year now remain with the local American league club.

Along with Murphy on the White Sox team is Eddie Collins. Shortstop Barry and Pitcher Pennock are with the Boston Americans; Pitcher Shawkey with the New York Americans; Bender, Baltimore Federals; Plank, St. Louis Federals and "Home-Run" Baker is playing in the Delaware County (Pennsylvania) League.

Colts Get Trimmed

Frankfort, July 17.—The locals took the opening game of the series from the Colts here Friday by hitting Royer hard in the final innings while Kuykendall was steady after the first three innings. The visitors' errors also aided the locals in scoring their runs. ANXIOUS TO GET TEAM

(Maysville Bulletin) At a late hour last night a prominent business man and live baseball fan received a telegram from the officials of the Ohio State league stating that representatives of that league would be here today to try and interest Maysville fans in the proposition of taking over the Chillicothe franchise and team. Huntington has been after the franchise but it seems that the league officials would rather have old Maysville back in the fold as she is one of the best baseball towns in this section.

Big Deal Is On

Now we hear of another big deal that is hanging fire in the Giants camp and if it goes through several Giants will go to the Athletics in exchange for two of Connie Mack's men. It is said one of these will be Stuffy McInnis.

WE PASS

John L. Sullivan is going on the lecture platform to fight John Barrymore. He evidently wants revenge for the decision he lost some years ago.

Nutter Is Sick

Everett Nutter, flashy center fielder of the Senators has been a sick man for two weeks and really should not be in the game. He is afflicted with a very sore throat and was told to get out of the game a week ago, but he pluckily dons his "uniform" every day and puts up a swell article of ball.

APPLAUSE FOR HOWDY

Howdy Caton got a great hand when he stepped up to the bat for the first time Friday. He showed his appreciation by singing to center. The fans like a hustling ball player and one who can hustle the old pit around and Caton is their ideal.

Senators Had Pep

Manager Rogers had his men shot full of pepper Friday and Charleston put up a gallant article of ball. For a long time it looked a Charleston victory but the tide turned in the closing session. "It was a little more hard luck for us," said Billy Beers philosophically after the game.

TWO WESTERN ATHLETES OF CLASS

A. Mucks (left) and Cameron.

These two athletes distinguished themselves at the recent Central A. U. senior championship meet at Chicago. Mucks is a Wisconsin University student, weighs 257 pounds, and set a new mark of 46 feet 6 1/2 inches in the pole vault at the meet. Cameron weighs 112 pounds, less than half as much as Mucks. He represented the Illinois Athletic club.

Double Bill Sunday

That double header with Charleston at Millbrook Sunday should attract the largest crowd of the season. The first game will be called at two bells. The Senators always put up real battles here and this pair of games should be witnessed by 1,500 fans.

Kaps Supporters Effect An Organization; Plans Are Made To Wage Red Hot Campaign

Supporters of H. H. (Bert) Kaps for the Republican nomination of mayor held an enthusiastic meeting in the hall above the Atlas store Friday evening, at which a permanent organization was effected, an executive committee selected, and a systematic plan of campaign outlined in advance of the party primary.

Permanent headquarters have been established in the hall where the meeting was held, which will be opened morning, afternoon and evening. A man will be placed in charge of the headquarters Monday, and all work will be conducted from that center.

Dr. P. W. Young acted as temporary chairman of the meeting while a permanent organization was being adopted. George W. Sheppard read the report of the committee on organization, which was unanimously adopted. It named the following officers and committeemen:

President, E. K. S. Clinkenbeard; vice president, John Eckhart; secretary, Charles Schirman; treasurer, M. J. Caldwell.

Executive committee, Charles E. Hard, chairman; William S. Sellards, Samuel Williams, W. F. Byers, Daniel Thomas, George W. Sheppard, John F. Eckhart, Maurice J. Caldwell, E. W. Smith, Dr. P. W. Young, H. B. Adams, Pete Yeager, George E. Matthews, Harry Dixon, Edward J. Daehler, Albert Weghorst, Samuel H. Harper, J. D. Grubbs, Clifford Smith, Roman Walker, Joseph Schell, Frank Puckett, William Cline, William Dragan, W. S. Haney, Ralph Calvert, Charles Hancock, A. T. Holcomb, Jr., Sampson Eckhart, George Bauer, Floyd D. Munn, Theodore Baner, John Fritts, John Martin, O. Pryor, Nourse, J. Brooks Stewart, Ed McNamara, Charles Grace, Henry Clark, Clarence Wright, John Capehart, and Spencer Gowdy.

The new president, E. K. S. Clinkenbeard, made an eloquent speech of acceptance, near the close of which he lauded the candidate of their organization, H. H. Kaps.

Short speeches favoring the candidacy of Kaps and pledging themselves to his cause were made by George W. Sheppard, Charles E. Hard, William Dragan, and Frank W. Moulton. Mr. Kaps acknowledged the many complimentary things that had been said about him in a neat speech at the close of the meeting.

Precinct meetings have been arranged in every precinct in the city Monday and Tuesday evening, to be followed by a general meeting at the headquarters on Thursday evening. By a curious coincidence the Kaps supporters are occupying the rooms that for two years past were the headquarters of the defunct Bull Moose party in Scioto county. The anti-Kaps men are pointing to this with great glee and claim that the old guard is a legitimate successor to the Bull Moose and that it is eminently fitting that they should have Moose quarters in which to kick against the real organization.

WILL LEAVE WEDNESDAY

John "Chief" Milliken, who until a few days ago held a responsible position with the Whitaker-Glossner Company will leave Wednesday for Cleveland, where he will accept a similar position with a steel company of that city. Mr. Milliken was superintendent of the employment bureau of the Whitaker-Glossner Co.

Safety First

The action of the N. & W. in appointing another special agent for duty in Portsmouth to break up the practice of train-riding is another outgrowth of the safety first movement. Agent Harry C. Bugh, of the local safety committee, will have direct supervision of the work.

Mike Finn Here

Mike Finn, a cafe owner of West Broad street, Columbus, was here Thursday visiting George Walsh of Otway and other old friends. Mike is a native of the McCullough neighborhood.

As the date for the August primary draws near strength of the candidacy of Charlie McCormick for mayor is growing on all sides. His many friends are working indefatigably for him and many who, at first were only lukewarm in their support, are now enthusiastically working for him. They are confident of his ultimate success as candidate for the mayoralty position on the Republican ticket. Possessed of many admirable traits which make him competent to fill such a responsible position, citizens of Portsmouth who are meeting Mr. McCormick begin to realize that he is the man suited for the place and are voluntarily offering to work in his interests. All support at the polls August 10 will be heartily appreciated by Mr. McCormick and his friends.

Boy Runs In Front Of Auto; Is Bruised

Homor, three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Crayton Cook, of Tenth street, was knocked down and painfully injured by an automobile at Tenth and Waller streets, driven by Dr. C. R. Pontius, of Fremont, who was here on a visit to his daughter, Mrs. Russell W. Anderson, of Fifth street.

The lad started across the street to join some companions and ran in front of Dr. Pontius' machine, which was traveling at a moderate rate of speed. Bystanders saw the little fellow's predicament, and shouted to Dr. Pontius to stop. One of them, David Breinig, ran over quickly, and pulled him out, just in time to save him from further injury.

Examination of his injuries disclosed a painfully bruised shoulder, and a bad bump on the head. He was carried to the office of Dr. F. H. Williams, but his father came after him and took him home. Dr. W. A. Quinn was later called, and he dressed the boy's injuries, which were not of serious nature. He was up and around as usual Saturday morning.

GRANDMA USED SAGE TEA TO DARKEN HAIR

She made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to bring back color, gloss, thickness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous, remove every bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, gray or dry, scraggly and thin. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 50 cents a large bottle at drug stores, known as "Weyl's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of fuss. While wispy, gray, faded hair is not so beautiful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Weyl's Sage and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and, after another application of two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and lustrous.

Roberts in Margaret Turnbull's "Stolen Goods." It is a powerfully interesting picture and one of the very best on the whole Paramount program. Columbia Tonight. Big Bargain Program Including Charlie Chaplin

Last Saturday we told you that we were going to give you a big bargain program at the Columbia every day this week and we have lived right up to our promise. Tonight is no exception to the promise and another big bargain program is on the bill at the Columbia this evening consisting of four separate pictures including a two-part feature picture entitled "The Hand of God," a most interesting and beautiful picture featuring Bobby Connelly. A Vitaphone wonderful child star supported by Naomi Childers, Betty Gray and others of note.

"The Stolen Case" is a single reel of comedy with a laugh in every foot of film.

"The Fatal Shot," a most interesting drama from the Biograph studio.

Then we also have your old friend Charley Chaplin in "His Musical Career." This is a new Chaplin picture, one you haven't seen before.

Another big bargain program has been booked for every day of next week beginning on Monday with "The Sands of Time," one of the best three reel pictures of this season. "Just Like Kids," a comedy with "Billy" Reeves, that funny man you see every Monday at the Columbia.

Have you been following the Paramount Travel Pictures at this theatre on Monday of each week? If you haven't you have been missing a real treat.

This week's travel pictures take you through the island of Jamaica and many others in the West Indies.

On next Thursday and Friday Manager Tynes announces two of the best feature pictures ever produced. Don't miss Clara Kimball Young in "Deep Purple" on Thursday, and Ina Claire (The Quaker Girl) in "The Wild Goose Chase" on Friday.

Watch this spot every evening in the Times for the daily program of the Columbia and when you come down street you will know just where to go to find the best in town in motion pictures.

Charley Chaplin At Arcana Theatre Tonight

That Manager Potts is always looking after the interests of the patrons of the Arcana Theatre, is shown by the fact that he has made arrangements to show the Charley Chaplin features and will show them at his popular amusement place on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays. The first Chaplin picture will be shown tonight, and you are assured of a rare treat. The Chaplin picture for this evening is especially adapted to please and delight the women and children. It is a screen from first to last and said to be one of the best that Chaplin has so far produced.

In addition to the Chaplin feature, Manager Potts will show two other reels of realism, one a drama and the other a comedy. The bill for this evening is guaranteed to be one of the biggest and best ever shown in the city, and if you want to be highly entertained and instructed, come to the Arcana tonight. Plenty of fresh air, a big battery of electric fans, comfortable seats and pictures shown on a gold fiber screen, the best that money can buy. And best of all, the admission is only five cents to all—that's one big feature, remember that.

At The Exhibit

Charles Chaplin, the big little comedian, is the attraction at the exhibit tonight. He is appearing in a screamingly funny comedy, entitled "Cruel, Cruel Love." The picture gives Chaplin a chance to display his ability as a comedian and there is one continual laugh from beginning to end all through the picture.

Changing his policy for Saturdays only Manager Law announces three other reels of films today and an admission price of 10 cents for the big show. There will be another good picture entitled "Pirates Bold." It is a good snappy picture all the way through. The big special feature is a two reel picture "The Mysterious Airship." Many thrilling scenes are shown, especially some which give striking examples of daring in the air. Don't miss this big show today for ten cents which includes orchestra music.

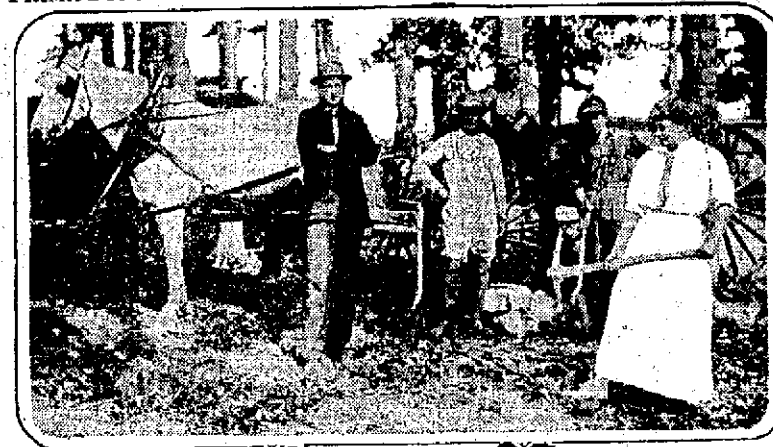

At The Pastime

Tonight's bill at the Pastime in Sciotoville contains a two reel Essanay drama entitled "The Place, Time and the Man." The featuring Bobby Connelly. A Vitaphone wonderful child star supported by Naomi Childers, Betty Gray and others of note.

5c At Strand Tonight

Charlie Chaplin, in one of his funniest farces "Mabel's Busy Day," is the big booster at this popular theatre tonight. Manager Welch saw this picture in Cincinnati and claims it to be a scream from start to finish. Come out and see Chaplin at his best. We have selected a three part feature "The Dancer," starring Cleo Madison as the other headliner of our program. A special east, was introduced in this picture and the result was a play which ranks in artistic excellence far above the usual run of feature dramas. HEAT VICTIM BROWNS NEAR C. & O. N. BRIDGE

Youthful Workman Succumbs To Sun And Swirling Waters; Body Is Recovered

Intense heat from a blistering mid-July sun caused death by drowning in the Ohio river to Dee Allen, 19, employed as fireman on a dredge boat of the Dravo Construction company, on the C. & O. N. bridge spanning the river at Sciotoville at ten o'clock Saturday morning.

Working on a dredge boat near the Kentucky shore repairing a hose, Allen is supposed to have crumpled from the hot sun's rays and toppled into the water. A waterboy, nearby, heard a piercing scream, saw a splash as Allen struck the water and heard the ominous gurgle of a few bubbles as Allen sank from sight. Four hours later the body was recovered twenty yards from the boat by Henry Conds, a shantyboatman, with the aid of a grappling hook. Allen fell between two barges and was swept beneath them by the current.

It all happened in an instant. He had his brother's body removed to E. E. Haquard's undertaking establishment in Sciotoville and made preparations to have it shipped to the old home Saturday night. Both the victim and his brother have been working for the construction company only three weeks, the victim being employed as fireman on the dredge boat.

A mother, father, nine brothers and a sister survive. Coroner Daehler was called and after making an investigation held the drowning altogether accidental.

The Real Suffrage Thought of Women

Motherhood is the thought uppermost in woman's mind. And with it, of course, comes the question of comfort, of help, of aid and influence. Among the best of these is a well known "eternal" remedy, "Mother's Friend." It is gently applied to the surface muscles. These are lubricated, toned, made pliable so they stretch as nature requires without the strain and pain on cords and ligaments. This influence extends through the myriad of nerves to deeper surfaces, the internal organs. And thus a period of repose must reflect itself not only in the mind of the mother, but upon the babe to come.

Young mothers who have used "Mother's Friend" have written to say how relieved they were at the absence of morning sickness, extreme nervousness, and other distresses of which they had heard and feared. Get a bottle of "Mother's Friend" at any drug store. Simply apply it over the stomach muscles and rest assured of perfect safety and comfort day and night. Write to Bradfield Regulator, 408 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for their handsome and instructive book.

OBITUARY

Mrs. George O. Newman

Many hearts in Portsmouth were saddened Friday evening by the news of the death of Mrs. George O. Newman, of 716 Second street, which occurred late Friday afternoon at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Edward Harrison Shaw, in Atlanta, Ga.

She and her husband had been staying at the Shaw home since a week before Christmas, Mrs. Newman having gone for the benefit of her health.

News of her death was received in a message received by her sister, Mrs. James W. Newman, of 921 Second street, about eight o'clock Friday evening, and caused genuine sorrow here, where Mrs. Newman has lived her entire life. While she had been in failing health for several months, it was not thought that the end was so near.

Mrs. Newman, whose maiden name was Miss Clay Moore, was born August 3, 1844, in this city, the daughter of Congressman and Mrs. Oscar R. Moore. All of her life she has lived in this city except the years spent in college at College Hill and Glendale, near Cincinnati. The Moore and Newman families lived side by side, and a childhood infatuation ripened into love, she and George O. Newman having been united in marriage on September 12, 1866. She continued to reside with her husband in the home of her parents after their death.

Besides the bereaved husband, four children survive: Judge Oscar W. Newman of the Ohio Supreme Court, Columbus; Mrs. Edwin N. Alger (Kate Newman), of Huntington, W. Va.; Mrs. Edward H. Shaw (Fannie Newman), of Atlanta, Ga.; and Russell W. Newman of Beckley, W. Va. One sister, Mrs. James W. Newman, of 921 Second street, also survives. An unusual coincidence was that the two sisters married two brothers.

Until a few years ago, Mrs. Newman was a prominent figure in the social life of the city, being an active member of several clubs and organizations, and especially active in musical circles. She was a skilled musician, having served as organist at the All Saints Episcopal church for over forty years, resigning two years ago on account of poor health. She was also a charter member of the Ladies' Musical, the leading musical organization of Portsmouth, which was organized at her home in 1893.

Funeral services will be held Monday morning at ten o'clock at the All Saints church in charge of the pastor, E. Ainger Powell. The body will arrive on the C. & O. Sunday afternoon, and will be taken to the Newman residence on Second street. Mr. and Mrs. Shaw and the bereaved husband will accompany the body home.

Mrs. E. N. Alger of Huntington, a daughter, arrived here Saturday afternoon, and Judge Newman will come down this evening from Columbus. Mr. and Mrs. Russell Newman sent word that they would arrive Sunday morning from Beckley, W. Va. Interment will be in Greentown cemetery.

Mrs. Margaret Wilson

Judge J. S. Thomas was called to Peebles Saturday morning by a message telling him of the death of his aunt, Mrs. Margaret Wilson, 70, of that place, which occurred early Saturday morning of heart trouble after an illness of several months.

Mrs. R. B. Cross, of Lightland avenue, wife of an N. & W. train despatcher, is a daughter of Mrs. Wilson. She too has been seriously ill, and early in the week was placed upon a cot and taken to Peebles to see her mother.

Joseph Zolor

Joseph Zolor, for many years a prominent farmer, passed away Friday evening at the home of his son, George Zolor, of Clifton, Mr. Zolor was past 83 years of age. His death was caused by a stroke of paralysis, which he suffered a few days ago. Since retiring several years ago Mr. Zolor lived with his daughter, Mrs. Kelley Cole, of the Stockdale pike. He was visiting his son, George Zolor, when stricken. The funeral services will be held Sunday from Mrs. Cole's residence and interment will be made near Stockdale.

Haven Kirk

Haven Kirk, formerly employed as yardmaster at Kenova, who was known here in railroad circles died in Ronoke Friday. He had been ill for some time.

Fred Plummer

The body of Fred "Dick" Plummer, who fell beneath the wheels of a C. & O. train and was ground to pieces, was shipped to Vanceburg Friday afternoon on C. & O. passenger train No. 7 leaving South Portsmouth at 3:07. The body was in charge of Plummer Bros., undertakers of Vanceburg. The Mrs. Inez Lawson Plummer and seven months' old baby, Ada Mae, accompanied the body to Vanceburg, where the funeral services will be held Saturday.

Robert Sterling Armbrister

The following tribute to the late Robert S. Armbrister was published in the Southwest Virginia Enterprise:

In Memory

Of our beloved son and brother Robert Sterling Armbrister, who came to his death by drowning in the Ohio river at Sciotoville, Ohio, July 12, 1914.

The month of July again is here. To us the saddest of the year, because it took from us away

One we loved, but could not have. A precious one from us has gone. A voice we loved is stilled. A place is vacant in our hearts, which never can be filled.

One year has passed, but oh we miss you.

Friends may think the wound is healed.

Little do they know the sorrow that lies within our hearts concealed.

Forget him we can never; God called him. He alone knew best. His will be done forever.

From his loving father, mother, brothers and sisters.

Joseph Fleming

Joseph Fleming, aged 79 years, died of paralysis at the home of his brother Jesse Fleming in Sloat, Ky., Friday. He was a widower and leaves a daughter, Mrs. Hettie Kountz and three sons, Lloyd, Albert and Jesse. Another brother lives at Fostoria, Burial will take place at Mt. Ebo, Ky., Sunday.

Clifton Elbert Truitt

Son of James and Sarah Truitt, was born at Blue Creek, Adams county, July 8th, 1899, and passed away July 13th, 1915, at 1:30 a. m., after a siege of typhoid fever and other complications. He never murmured during his sickness, always cheerful to every one he met. He joined the Wesleyan Methodist church at Friendship two years ago, during the pastorate of Rev. Carroll. Clifton was well known in his community and respected by his legion of acquaintances.

He was a faithful Sunday school scholar, nearly all his life, and died in the triumph of a living faith. The deceased leaves a father and mother and four brothers, namely: Porter, of Wilmington, O.; Frank, of McGaw, O.; Ora and Roy at home, to mourn. Clifton was always caring for the welfare of others first. He told his mother not to weep, that he would soon be at rest. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Dillert at the home, Thursday morning, July 15th, at 9 o'clock. Six lady friends of the deceased, acting as pall bearers. Namely: Edna Harding and Ethel Gordon, Ethel Harding and Mae Bailey, Alma Young and Nettie Thomas. The service left for McKendree chapel, where Rev. McCormick, of Buena Vista, gave a short talk, then the remains were laid to rest in the cemetery adjoining the church.

KAISER MEETS FREDERICK AT LEMBERG

German kaiser and Austrian commander (baton under arm) at Lemberg, after Russians were driven out.

So grave was the situation about Lemberg before the Teutons drove the Russian forces before them that the German kaiser deemed it advisable to appear on the scene of action in person. The Archduke Frederick was on a similar mission to urge the Austrian troops on. After the evacuation of the city by the Russians the kaiser and the archduke met to felicitate one another on the valor of their men.

This week we also hold our afternoon service in the Temple theatre at 2:30 p. m., when Pastor W. H. Spring will give a discourse on "The Holy Spirit; It's Work." There have been many varied opinions as to what the Holy Spirit is, and also as to what it is to accomplish. Mr. Spring takes the Bible record only in its purity and simplicity, and thus using the only true source from which it is possible to clear up the matter in a way satisfactory both to head and heart. Don't miss this fine discourse, and as usual with all these lectures it is entirely FREE.

Possibly many well-posted Methodists looked forward when the meeting of the commission was held in Cincinnati, Ohio, June 30, pointing toward a larger Methodism, that they would hear the Methodist Episcopal people had gone over in large numbers, and that like a flash to be part and parcel to all other forms of Methodism in a great union.

Allow me to say this was not done, and no one has the authority to go out and say it was done. And, be it further said, that if the selfish program that is being put on in this city by the man of the other church for our people, should be the tactics of the men in high church office, the thought of union, else alone the act of union would never be in 10,000,000 years.

"WHY WE KEEP THE LORD'S DAY"

AUTHENTIC ACCOUNT OF RUSSIAN RETREAT

Correspondence of The Associated Press Headquarters of Russian Third Army, July 15.—It is seldom that the staff of any army cares to allow a newspaper correspondent to observe or write of its retreats and retreats. The field censor's motto is, "Nothing Passes Except Good News."

The staff of the Russian third army has broken the precedent in allowing the freedom of its lines to the British official press representative during the whole of its heart-breaking retreat from the Carpathian slopes, back across Galicia and even across the Russian frontier.

The correspondent's first story, covering a long series of daily fights and daily Russian defeats, followed by the inevitable retreats before the Austro-German concentrated artillery fire, is as follows:

The advance of the Russians over the Carpathians was sure to draw a counter-stroke, and it came just where many expected it, but with tremendous force. This was because it was not so much the work of the fired Austrians; but rather the biggest exert that Germany has yet put up in her attempts to bolster her ally.

Nine German Regiments Battle Three of Russians
In a house standing high by a church I found the staff of the division. There was a hut on the top of the hill. Sitting in front of it one could see for at least ten miles in either direction.

The Division was holding a front of eight miles across a low line of wooded heights, of which the most marked feature was a village with a little church tower. Against three Russian regiments were nine, mostly German, and backed by the most formidable artillery.

Beyond each of the flanks of the Division, one could see at intervals black clouds of smoke; one thick stream of smoke that stretched into the skies came from some distant petroleum works. The whole right wing was being pounded with crash after crash, sometimes four black columns rising almost simultaneously at intervals along it; under each would break out little angry teeth of sparkling flame. The only thing that seemed not to be hit was the church tower, which, as each cloud died down, came out simply again in the bright sunshine. The left wing was in patches of smoke that sometimes disappeared for a time.

What was happening to the center was not so clear; so after watching for some hours the shells and shrapnel bursting along the line and on the slope, we descended by some winding gullies, drawing a shrapnel as we passed over a low shoulder, and soon reached the staff of the center regiment.

Telephones Play Important Part in Conducting War

Under the nearer wall of a hut, little groups were working at the telephones, while a number of soldiers lay on logs around. The Colonel came forward and took me into the open, pointing at the ridge some six hundred yards away. All his left was at grips with the enemy, and on his right his men were fighting at the close range of two hundred yards in the wood beyond the crest.

The telephones worked incessantly. Each of the battalion commanders reported in turn—one that his machine guns had been put out of action, another that there was a gap in his line, a third that he was holding good at full strength. The Colonel explained that his last reserves were engaged. A message came that his right flank was open and was being turned. He opened the telephone and called, "Two companies forward at the double," reporting his action directly to the staff of the Division. There was a peculiar humanness about all these messages; in form they were just ordinary courteous conversation. The question which brought the most disquieting answers was, "How are your connections?" The Colonel on the left reported that his line was penetrated at more than one point, but was holding out. The right wing telephone gave no answer at all. Life there was unlivable; and I heard from soldiers a report that they had seen the Austrians in the Russian trenches.

Shells and Shrapnel Crash All Around

Shells and shrapnel were crashing all round us, especially in our rear; a hut that I had passed on the way down broke out in full flame. Nearer down there fell four black explosives at regular distances of fifty yards, "the four packets," as one officer called it. Our cover would all have gone with a single shot, and the men crouched to avoid the falling splinters from each shell.

In this most depressing atmosphere went on the conversation between the Colonel and the divisional staff. "I can get no track of the right wing," Cavalry is reported on both of my flanks. The right has had to retreat. The answer was an order to retire at nightfall. Three hours at least to wait.

The orders were communicated in French over each battalion telephone. The Colonel apologized for his elementary French; it was anyhow the French of a brave man.

As disquietude increased, permission came to retire once; but the Colonel answered that this could not be done, he was in hot defensive action, and the enemy would follow on his heels; at present he was holding his own.

My hosts argued me to go. The situation was getting too serious for a non-combatant. It was with an ill-feeling that I turned for the slope. As I began to reach shelter, I suddenly saw on the hills to the west men running down the slope towards us. "Perhaps ours, perhaps the enemy," said my Cossack escort. But we reached the crest unmolested and were now in comparative safety; for we were out of the line of fire, and the valley to the north of us was full of our own people.

Here there was a long train of wounded and we found our automobile in the midst of it. We packed in the men with the worst wounds that we noticed; they lay without a groan, and one said, "Thanks be to the Lord, and eternal gratitude to you." A young soldier told us that no living hand could have driven the troops on the right wing from their positions; but that the whole area was covered with shells till trenches and men were leveled out of existence. The companies left comparatively intact had all joined the center. Of this section of the line we could only hear vague rumors.

Late in the day we reached the deserted school house to which the staff had retreated.

By morning the lines lay just outside the town, and the Germans and Austrians were making a tremendous attack on them, pounding them with the heaviest artillery and advancing in close column again and again.

Leader Is Robust and Active, Is a Fighter

The leader of this Division is a fighting general, robust and active. The staff was very close up to the front, and from the balcony of the school house the general viewed the lines and gave orders. Many parts of the lines were now non-existent, having been reduced to a series of shell-pits by the German artillery.

Making my way to the advanced lines, I found a brigadier general and got leave to accompany an attempted advance. It was the first regiment of the famous Caucasian Corps just arrived after an all-night march, and going up to the attack. A battalion commander stood just below the hut, putting his men in position. He was a quiet little man, already elderly and with an old voice, that sounded vigorously, however, across the slope. The men made their way by companies up the different clefts in the hollow and soon lined the ridge beyond. The commander moved about among them at an easy walk, directing some, hurrying on others.

The men went forward on their knees, separating off into what the Russians call a "chain," where any one with initiative, by finding cover, a little further forward, gives a lead to all the rest. The officers walked upright throughout. When the crest was lined, the commander went forward in different directions.

"God Is With Us"

He Tells His Men

On his return he gave a few orders to his officers; one of them was a little excited, and called out, "I have an instinct that it will go right; God grant that it is a true one," and turning to his men he shouted, "God is with us." Except for this, nothing broke the atmosphere of the evening stillness.

"Well, children," said the commander, "What shall I say to you? With God Forward!"

One company went off to the wood on the right, and after a few minutes another, with the commander and myself, moved forward over the bare hill, leaving two others to follow in reserve. The men advanced in little groups, creeping in line with each other. The officers walked about freely, often in advance of the men, or encouraging any that showed too much caution. The commander and I branched off into the edge of the wood; he turned and smiled to me as the shrapnel tore away some of the boughs. At the bottom the machine guns were hurried up, and we ascended the further slope.

We were now on a bare height, which was like a tongue projecting forward, and a hot musketry fire was opened on us. A man near me called out that he was wounded and rolled himself down to the hollow where a bearer set about bandaging him. A shell burst beyond us and another called out. One could see what happened to the men nearest to one.

Commander Strolls Among His Soldiers

The commander continued to stroll about among the men, in the same way as he would have done out of action. Several of the men begged him to lie down. We went round the height and he brought his men everywhere to the edge of it and told them to entrench themselves, which they set about doing at once. We could see where the bullets came from, on the low ground in front. To our left was a ridge with trees, along which we could see men on horseback coming from the direction of the enemy. To our right, beyond the wood, was a high ridge covered with men, who appeared to be advancing upon us, but did not open fire.

Suddenly a column of blue figures was seen coming up close on our front. In what seemed a minute, two of our machine guns had been moved to this side. Round some brush-wood thirty yards away came the first rush of the columns. One caught sight of a line of pale faces

Our commander shouted orders. A young officer clenched his fist. Our gunners ground out a shower of bullets, and the Austrian column disappeared into the wooded valley.

Later in the day, after I had gone back to headquarters, I learned that the little commander had been brought back into the town wounded in the head in the last Austrian attack.

Retreats With Division To Their New Quarters

In the evening I retreated with the Division staff several miles to new quarters. All along the road the general stopped any straggling soldiers and asked closely what had happened to their regiments. This was all extremely well done. He was really severe only to one batch, who told him an obvious lie. Altogether the retreat, for it was that, was unattended by any panic and everyone seemed anxious to help his neighbor. Going at a sharp trot, we reached our new quarters at three in the morning.

I woke at noon in a farm-house in a village that was filled with the divisional field train. The divisional general had gone off early to the front to rectify the new positions. The news that came in was uncertain and anxious. The first lot which the general and his staff had ordered had been made untenable by the enemy's artillery. The second lot that he visited was also set on fire. No further news of him came till late in the evening, and he had barely escaped capture.

Word came that the general staff must be moved further back. The field trains were set in motion, and we traveled without any kind of confusion across a beautiful range of wooded hills. We stopped more than once to see the fight that was going on below us. It was a blaring line of fire and smoke and thin yellow and white bursts of the Austrian shrapnel being almost lost in the white or black smoke of the German artillery. We traveled very slowly and for a good part of the day. Officers and men had a feeling of great vexation at having to retire before troops which they felt themselves capable of beating with any equal conditions.

All of the Regiments Had Suffered Losses

In the afternoon we drew up in a large village full of field trains. Reports came in from all quarters. Nearly all the regiments had suffered great losses. The trenches had been left only when the enemy's artillery had made them untenable. In some parts the systematic ploughing up of whole given areas had gone so far behind our lines that even approach to the trenches had become impossible.

The game was not lost even on this ground, and immediate measures had been taken for counter-attacks the following day. Meanwhile the town in which we were was under an intermittent, but violent, bombardment of aeroplanes and all the hospitals were being moved to the rear.

The railway station was crowded with wounded, lying close together anywhere in the family manner of the Russian peasant. Most were wounded in the hands or the head, showing that they had been under devastating fire, which hit anything that was at all exposed. There were also many signs of infantry attacks beaten off, in wounds of all kinds over the body.

The officers lay here like the rest, separated only by the silent respect shown to them by the men. The number of wounded officers is not surprising, for, as I have explained, they stand and walk while their men are ordered to crawl, but the sacrifice in officers is particularly impressive.

CLOUDBURST DAMAGES CROPS NEAR CLEVELAND

Cleveland, July 17.—A cloudburst here late yesterday afternoon took down wires and stalled trolley cars operating from this city towards Chardon and Gates Mills. Six cars were stalled in the suburbs of Cleveland all night. Passengers who were not able to secure transportation by automobile, either slept in the cars or adjoining fields all night. Traffic was still tied up today.

Crops suffered heavy damage and telephone and electric light wires in many places were destroyed. The heat wave, which set a season's record yesterday, promised to be temporarily broken by showers today. One unidentified man was killed by heat here early today, while two other adult deaths indirectly due to the weather were recorded in addition to those of six babies.

U. S. SUBMARINE CAN CROSS OCEAN, RETURN WITHOUT STOPPING

Bridgeport, Conn., July 17.—Simon Lake, the inventor and builder of submarines for the United States government, was gratified today by the success of the experiments testing the new submarine G-3 which demonstrated that the new boat can cross the Atlantic Ocean and return without stopping, having a cruising radius of 6,000 miles.

"It is perfectly practicable for the G-3 with its new engines to cross the ocean, do what she went to do and come back without dependence on any base of supplies," said Mr. Lake. "It is merely a question of economy of fuel."

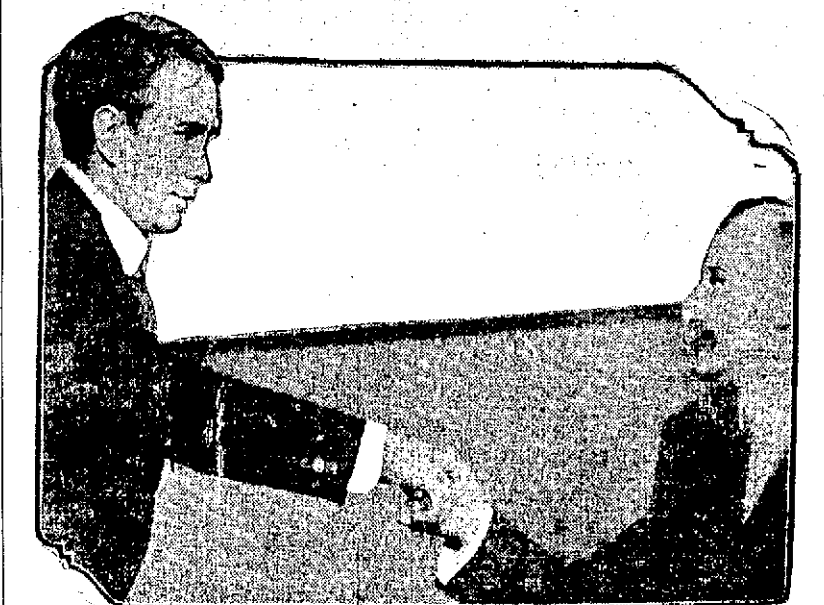

The G-3 was built by the Lake Torpedo Boat company of this city. Her extensive cruising radius is due to the efficiency of a new engine which drives the boat both on the surface and under water, replacing both the gasoline engines heretofore used to drive submarine craft on the surface and the electric motor used for under sea travel. In a series of tests consisting of trips up and down the length of Long Island sound the new boat showed a speed of 14.7 knots on the surface and 10.7 knots submerged. She cost $450,000. The G-3 is only 160 feet long, but seven new Lake submarines which are being constructed for the United States navy will be 350 feet long and possess a much greater radius of activity than the G-3. They will use the new engine and Mr. Lake said today that they would be the equal of any in the German navy.

"When the new boats are finished in about a year and a half," Mr. Lake said, "they will be a match for any submarine in the world. They will cost $555,000 a piece and will be equipped with six torpedo tubes each."

The United States government holds the specifications for the new engine which burns heavy oil and American firms will be able to manufacture them.

RECOVERS SPEECH, TALKS TO HIMSELF

London, July 17.—When he found that speech, which had been lost through concussion, had returned to him, Private Painter of the London Rifles, spent a whole night in the general hospital at Lincoln talking to himself. He feared to lose it if he did not keep it up, yet he did not want to call out to the night sister for fear she might faint. So he wandered until the attendant came around with his morning cup of tea, then remarked: "Shove it down there, old chap." For this he was showered with the tea by the agitated attendant.

Painter's case has been of intense interest in the hospital, as a case of loss of speech, taste and hearing, due to the explosion of a giant shell near him in the battle line. He now seems to be recovering his hearing also.

PAWN SHOPS HARD HIT

Moscow, July 17.—Prohibition of the sale of vodka and other intoxicating drinks has effected a striking reduction of the business of the municipal pawnshops. Notwithstanding the high prices of foodstuffs and clothing entailed by the war, the population is steadily losing its dependence upon these institutions, as is shown by the following figures:

For the first quarter of 1914, the municipal pawnshops made 204,453 loans, aggregating $1,229,145.

During the corresponding quarter of the present year there were contracted 128,010 loans, totaling $898,857.

Washington, July 17.—Formal notice that the United States holds that the rights of Americans who have cases before the British prize courts rest upon international law and not upon British orders in council or municipal law is given in a brief statement cabled to American Ambassador Page, and presented by him yesterday to the London foreign offices.

FORD COMPANY TO REFUND $15,000,000

Detroit, July 17.—The Ford Automobile company yesterday afternoon announced a refund of approximately $15,000,000 to owners of Ford automobiles who have purchased their machines since August 1, 1914.

On August 1, 1914, the company announced that if 300,000 machines were sold during the ensuing year, each purchaser would receive a refund of from $40 to $60. The 300,000 mark was reached this afternoon. The company says the refund is strictly in the nature of the profit distribution policy of the company.

GEDDES WINS ESTATE. MORMAN CASE ENDS

Ogden, Utah, July 17.—The jury in the case of Albert Geddes, suing for an interest in the $6,000,000 estate of David Eccles, Utah, millionaire sugar manufacturer on the ground that he is a son of Eccles, decided yesterday that Eccles was the boy's father.

The verdict declared Young Geddes an heir to the Eccles estate. The jury returned the verdict at noon, after having deliberated since 6:30 Thursday night. Albert Geddes is the 16-year-old son of Mrs. Margaret Geddes. The suit has been on trial for a month. Margaret Geddes contended she had been united to David Eccles in a plural marriage by an apostle of the Mormon church in 1898, and that he had acknowledged her as his wife. The case had attracted widespread attention partly because of its relation to the Senator Reed Smoot investigation in Washington in 1904. Mrs. Geddes at that time having testified that

Lusitania Probers End Investigation

London, July 17.—Torpedoes fired by a submarine of German nationality caused the loss of the steamship Lusitania and its passengers, according to findings of the court of inquiry appointed to investigate the disaster.

The court held that no blame for the tragedy attached either to Captain Turner, commander of the vessel, or the Cunard line, the owners.

"After having carefully inquired into the circumstances of the disaster," says the formal report of the court, "the court finds the loss of the ship and lives were due to damage caused the ship by torpedoes fired by a submarine of German nationality."

"In the opinion of the court, the attack was not done merely with the intention of sinking the ship, but also with the intention of destroying the lives of the people on board."

U. S. SUBMARINE CAN CROSS OCEAN, RETURN WITHOUT STOPPING

Bridgeport, Conn., July 17.—Simon Lake, the inventor and builder of submarines for the United States government was gratified today by the success of the experiments testing the new submarine G-3 which demonstrated that the new boat can cross the Atlantic Ocean and return without stopping, having a cruising radius of 6,000 miles.

"It is perfectly practicable for the G-3 with its new engines to cross the ocean, do what she want to do and come back without dependence on any base of supplies," said Mr. Lake. "It is merely a question of economy of fuel."

The G-3 was built by the Lake Torpedo Boat company of this city. Her extensive cruising radius is due to the efficiency of a new engine which drives the boat both on the surface and under water, replacing both the gasoline engines heretofore used to drive submarine craft on the surface and the electric motor used for under sea travel.

In a series of tests consisting of trips up and down the length of Long Island sound the new boat showed a speed of 14.7 knots on the surface and 10.7 knots submerged. She cost $450,000. The G-3 is only 160 feet long, but seven new Lake submarines which are being constructed for the United States navy will be 350 feet long and possess a much greater radius of activity than the G-3. They will use the new engine and Mr. Lake said today that they would be the equal of any in the German navy.

"When the new boats are finished in about a year and a half," Mr. Lake said, "they will be a match for any submarine in the world. They will cost $535,000 a piece and will be equipped with six torpedo tubes each."

The United States government holds the specifications for the new engine which burns heavy oil and American firms will be able to manufacture them.

A German named Schmidt was shot and killed at Leigh a week ago while trying to escape.

THE WEATHER

Ohio—Generally fair tonight and Sunday. Slightly cooler in north portion tonight.

RIVERS FALLING, DANGER IS PAST

Columbus, July 17.—The passing of last night without any considerable rainfall resulted in improved conditions early today throughout the Ohio flood district. While many thousand acres of land remained under water today, practically all rivers were either stationary or were falling, and with clear weather generally prevailing, it was believed the worst had been passed.

The Scioto and Olentangy rivers began receding here early today, bringing ease of mind to anxious watchers, especially in the flood-stricken district on the west side, where thousands remained up all of last night. Many of them were engaged in moving their belongings to higher grounds.

Leaves along the Scioto river in this city, which began leaking yesterday afternoon, were repaired during the night and this morning were reported to be holding fast against the strain put upon them.

OTTAWA DROPS, LIMA IS OUT OF DANGER

Lima, O., July 17.—Ottawa river flooded cellars where articles stored were ruined.

Late last night the police were called to rescue a half-dozen families marooned on a small island. The force of the water was weakening their houses and they feared they would be swept down stream.

Damage at Harrod, 3 miles east of Lima, was also severe. Fifteen houses were damaged or demolished and the Methodist church was destroyed. Damage to crops will amount to thousands of dollars.

CLOUDBURST DAMAGES CROPS NEAR CLEVELAND

Cleveland, July 17.—A cloudburst here late yesterday afternoon, took down wires and stalled trolley cars operating from this city towards Chardon and Gates Mills. Six cars were stalled in the suburbs of Cleveland all night. Passengers who were not able to secure transportation by automobile, either slept in the cars or adjoining fields all night. Traffic was still tied up today.

Crops suffered heavy damage and telephone and electric light wires in many places were destroyed. The heat wave, which set a season's record yesterday, promised to be temporarily broken by showers today. One unidentified man was killed by heat here early today, while two other adult deaths indirectly due to the weather were recorded in addition to those of six babies.

WILL APPOINT 300

Columbus, July 17.—More than 300 applicants for the 10 positions on the new state Board of Agriculture which will be appointed next Wednesday to supplant the present agricultural commission had been recorded after today's mail had been opened at the executive offices. Most applicants are farmers. According to the Smith-Mallow law under which the board will be constituted it must contain at least six men from this class.

JOYOUS RALLY IN NINTH DEFEAT THE SENATORS

Portsmouth Cops Friday's Game 2-1; Team Plays Today

WHEN Pitcher Hancock blazed one through the alley with a 3 and 2 combination on Harry Daubert, brilliant shortstop of the Charleston Senators in Friday's Portsmouth-Charleston game at Millbrook, Daubert laid the ash to the globule and when picked up it reposed gently in a clump of small trees just outside of the park. It was one of those luscious over-the-garden-wall shots and was the only run scored by the Senatorial aggregation flying the flag of the Beers tribe.

For eight long prettily played innings it looked like the one run would win the game for Portsmouth during this time had been held scoreless, despite the fact that Beers lifted Pitcher Coffindaffer in the sixth and trotted out Henderson, a tall well built chap, who had a good curve ball, but was a trifle wild. The switch in pitchers proved the undoing of the Senators as the winning runs were made off Henderson and he gets credit for losing the old ball game.

When Coffindaffer dripping with perspiration retired to the cooling shade of the dugout his team had a one run lead, in fact it possessed this one lonesome tally that had been scored, the aforesaid fence clout of one said Mr. Daubert, whose specialty is being fined by Umpire Parnham. By way of disgression at this point let it be uttered gently, but truthfully that Daubert has been fined $75 this season by Parnham. Daubert has arranged to pay it, just as soon as Charleston wins a pennant. Of course there need be no worry on Mr. Daubert's part.

But returning to said game Portsmouth put over the tying run in the ninth and then Manager Spencer, weary of battling any longer than the stipulated nine innings, promptly drove in Outfielder McHenry with the winning run and then everybody ducked to the cooling breezes of city-bound street cars.

It was a magnificently played game and but for an exceedingly close play at second the Senators would have perhaps wound up their day's work scoring a shut out over the best little team in the league, and one in which H-A-R-M-O-N-Y is written in capital letters. Umpire Colgate called Sherman safe at second in the ninth on a hit past short and the Senators thought he should have been called out. Of course they can't be blamed for that, but what Colgate said stood and Portsmouth promptly proceeded to win the game. The only time Charleston had a chance to score was in the second when Daubert faced the pill out of the lot.

Ray Hancock kept putting lots of plunder on the horseshoe and he had as big a chance to pace as the fair, fat voluble Eva Tanguay. He held the Senators to five bingles, struck out four, secured two hits himself and his meal ticket was punched.

When Portsmouth went to the bat in the ninth a black cat chased across the field. The stuff was off. The Senators had been lined.

Getting hold of one on the inside corner in this frame Sherman cracked it past Curtis and when Daubert raced over to knock it down he promptly "knew" the ball into a two-stacker, the ball bounding past the foul line. Sherman then took third and a seat on the bag. When Troutman threw out Johnson, Sir Huddy Caton, of swat fame, then sent Nutter after in center for his left and after the catch Sherman came home, no play being made for him at the plate. Then Adams countly earned nothing fame as McHenry slipped one in center, annexed second and scampered to third when Beers' good throw evaded Daubert. With one ball on him Spencer fouled the next one and it caromed off the bat and struck him in the pit of the stomach. Spencer dropped to the ground, there being no other place to go to. He was given a drink of ice water and was fanned by the cluster of perspiring athletes who hemmed him in.

Just to show his gratefulness Mr. Spencer jumped to his feet, grabbed his bat, stepped into the batters' box and ball and no amount of superbly fielding can alone for that fatality. Jones has hardly a peer in roaming the gardens, but the hard driving he did early in the spring has been conspicuous by its absence of late weeks and his release was necessary.

Players Were Sore

The Charleston players clustered around Umpire Colgate in the ninth and made life miserable for him for a few minutes. They protested Colgate's decision at second Sherman. They insisted that the local centerfielder was out by feet while the local players said he was safe by inches. Manager Beers handed the situation nicely, going behind the bat as soon as Colgate gave his decision. "What's the use of an argument; what the umpire says goes," Biddy told his players.

Opposing these men were such Pacific coast players as Maurice McLaughlin, rated No. 1 among the world's players; John Strachan, William Johnston, Thomas Bundy, Elia Fottrell, Clarence Griffin, Lindley Murray and others.

Famous Athletics Completely Riddled BASEBALL

Philadelphia, July 17.—With the disposal of Eddie Murphy to the Chicago White Sox yesterday, only eight of the sixteen members of the Philadelphia Athletics who participated in the world's series games with the Boston Nationals last year now remain with the local American league club.

Along with Murphy on the White Sox team is Eddie Collins, shortstop, and Pitcher Fanneck. With the Boston Americans are Pitcher Shawkey, with the New York Americans; Bender, Baltimore Federals; Plank, St. Louis Federals and "Home Run" Baker, who is playing in the Delaware County (Pennsylvania) League.

Colts Get Trimmed

The visitors' errors also aided the locals in scoring their runs. The score: Lexington 12 0 1 0 0 0 0 0 4 1 Frankfort 0 0 0 0 2 3 0 3 3 0 0 Batteries: Roger and Blackwell; Kuykendall and Briney.

ANXIOUS TO GET TEAM

(Maysville Bulletin) At a late hour last night a prominent business man and live baseball fan received a telegram from the official of the Ohio State league stating that representatives of that league would be here today to try and interest Maysville fans in the proposition of taking over the Chillicothe franchise and team. Huntington has been after the franchise but it seems that the league officials would rather have old Maysville back in the fold as she is one of the best baseball towns in this section.

Big Deal Is On

Now we hear of another big deal that is hanging fire in the Giants camp and if it goes through several Giants will go to the Athletics in exchange for two of Connie Mack's men. It is said one of these will be Stuffy McInnis.

WE PASS

John L. Sullivan is going on the lecture platform to fight John Barrymore. He evidently wants revenge for the decision he lost some years ago.

Nutter Is Sick

Everett Nutter, flashy center fielder of the Senators has been a sick man for two weeks and really should not be in the game. He is afflicted with a very sore throat and was told to get out of the game a week ago, but he pluckily does his "unle" every day and puts up a swell article of ball.

APPLAUSE FOR HOWDY

Howdy Caton got a great hand when he stepped up to the bat for the first time Friday. He showed his appreciation by singling to center. The fans like a hustling ball player and one who can slap the old ball around and Caton is their ideal.

Senators Had Pep

Manager Beers had his men shot full of pepper Friday and Charleston put up a pill edge article of ball. For a long time it looked a Charleston victory but the tide turned in the closing session. "It was a little more hard luck for us," said Biddy Beers philosophically after the game.

These two athletes distinguished themselves at the recent Central A. A. U. senior championship meet at Chicago. He represented the Illinois Athletic club.

Double Bill Sunday

That double header with Charleston at Millbrook Sunday should attract the largest crowd of the season. The first game will be called at two o'clock. The Senators always put up real battles here and this pair of games should be witnessed by 1,500 fans.

TEAR UP PART OF BRIDGE; SCIOTO WILL RISE HERE UNTIL MONDAY, IS FALLING AT CAPITAL

VERY LITTLE RISE AT THIS POINT YET; FERRY RUNNING

Direct reports to The Times from United States Weather Observer J. Warren Smith at Columbus at 9:30 Saturday morning showed the Scioto river falling at Columbus, Ohio, with no prospects of additional water from the upper watersheds. At Circleville the water is rising and it is predicted will continue to rise until some time tonight. At Chillicothe it is predicted the river will continue to rise until sometime Sunday afternoon while at Portsmouth the rise will continue until some time Monday morning.

Below Columbus the rise will be steady but slow and the only danger will be to the outlying bottom lands, according to the weather observer.

After reaching a stage of 18.1 feet at Columbus the river began to recede at midnight Friday. Saturday morning at 9:30 it had fallen to a stage of 17.8 and was falling steadily. Seventeen feet is the danger point at Columbus.

No more water is coming from the upper water sheds according to Mr. Smith. Marion, Ohio had an inch rain fall Friday night but this will not affect the local rise. The Scioto river is falling steadily at all points above Columbus.

Stages of 15 feet at Circleville and 18 feet at Chillicothe are predicted. The crest of the rise will pass Portsmouth Monday morning.

Water Slow In Reaching Here

The sudden and big rise caused in the upper Scioto river by heavy rains in Central Ohio is slow in reaching Portsmouth and the look for mad rush of waters will hardly materialize.

The Scioto first commenced running out lightly here Saturday morning about 8:30. It was reported running heavier at Lucasville and the crest should reach here some time Sunday.

Tears Up Bridge Floor

Henry Ruel has made all preparations, having taken up all flooring of the center section of the temporary bridge which was closed to travel Friday night at 9 o'clock. He left 100 ft. of flooring on the east side and 240 ft. on the west side untouched. The 240 ft. taken up is in the section of the bridge that has gone out several times. He figured he could catch the piling and other material still standing and drag it back up the river after it is swept away cheaper than by putting his men to work tearing it up. He can also restore the bridge section in less time than it could be taken up. He announces that if the water is done Sunday he will restore the bridge in six hours' time and have it open for travel again at the usual hour, 4 o'clock Monday morning. It took his men 16 hours to take up the center flooring. He will not risk installing a derrick there to save the material left standing in the center.

Mr. Ruel is ferrying foot passengers with his gasoline boat Lik and a flat boat. He felt hopeful Saturday that the rise will not hurt this section to any extent.

Official Dispatch

Captain Harry Donnelly, local river observer, received the following message from J. Warren Smith, U. S. observer at Columbus, Saturday morning: "Highest water Columbus 18 ft. Falling now. Will rise at Portsmouth until Monday and will overflow lowlands."

Rising At Jasper

John Dewey, a storekeeper of Jasper, Pike county, 22 miles north of Portsmouth, reported Saturday morning about nine o'clock that the Scioto river was not doing much there, though a rather strong current was perceptible. There had been a rise of about 2 ft. there since Friday afternoon and the stage was not thought to exceed 7 ft.

Mr. Dewey said Scioto Valley farmers had never been confronted with such conditions before, for there had been no rains of any consequence between Portsmouth and Columbus and no big side streams to swell the Scioto. The Columbus rise is well up to the 1907 rise but during that time there was a high river between Portsmouth and Columbus. Mr. Dewey said he expected a rise of from 10 to 12 ft., and did not anticipate anything like the 1913 flood.

8 1/2 Feet Rise At Chillicothe

A message from Chillicothe stated that the Scioto river had reached a stage of 8 1/2 ft. and was slowly rising there Saturday morning at 6 o'clock. It was expected to be stationary there within a few hours and commence falling Saturday afternoon. The only damage suffered there was that caused by the overflow of the low bottom lands. It had commenced rising at Chillicothe Friday morning at 11 o'clock when the Scioto was at a normal stage.

The Scioto was reported stationary at Columbus at 11:30 Friday night. Reports from that Saturday morning were that there had been some extraordinary rains again there and above Delaware Friday, and the river was 13 ft., or one foot below the flood mark there and on a stand Saturday morning. Alum Creek was reported the highest ever known.

IS CHARGED WITH THEFT

Alfred Schaefer, of the firm of J. J. Schaefer & Sons, Market street grocers, filed an affidavit in police court Saturday morning against "White Wing" John Henderson for alleged stealing about twenty-five iron rafters and shelf supports, valued at $10, from the new Schaefer warehouse. The iron material was located at the M. Jacobs & Sons' junk shop, where Henderson is said to have sold it.

OBITUARY

Mrs. George O. Newman

Many hearts in Portsmouth were saddened Friday evening by the news of the death of Mrs. George O. Newman, of 718 Second street, which occurred late Friday afternoon at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Edward Harrison Shaw, in Atlanta, Ga. She and her husband had been staying at the Shaw home since a week before Christmas. Mrs. Newman having gone for the benefit of her health.

News of her death was received in a message received by her sister, Mrs. James W. Newman, of 921 Second street, about eight o'clock Friday evening, and caused genuine sorrow here, where Mrs. Newman has lived her entire life. While she had been in failing health for several months, it was not thought that the end was so near.

Mrs. Newman, whose maiden name was Miss Clay Moore, was born August 3, 1844, in this city, the daughter of Congressman and Mrs. Oscar R. Moore. All of her life she has lived in this city except the years spent in college at College Hill and Glendale, near Cincinnati. The Moore and Newman families lived side by side, and a childhood infatuation ripened into love, she and George O. Newman having been united in marriage on September 12, 1866. She continued to reside with her husband in the home of her parents after their death.

Besides the bereaved husband, four children survive: Judge Oscar W. Newman of the Ohio Supreme Court, Columbus; Mrs. Edwina N. Alger (Kate Newman), of Huntington, W. Va.; Mrs. Edward H. Shaw (Fannie Newman), of Atlanta, Ga.; and Russell W. Newman of Beckley, W. Va. One sister, Mrs. James W. Newman, of 921 Second street, also survives. An unusual coincidence was that the two sisters married two brothers.

Until a few years ago, Mrs. Newman was a prominent figure in the social life of the city, being an active member of several clubs and organizations and especially active in musical circles. She was a skilled musician, having served as organist at the All Saints Episcopal church for over forty years, resigning two years ago on account of poor health. She was also a charter member of the Ladies' Musical, the leading musical organization of Portsmouth, which was organized at her home in 1893.

Definite word concerning the funeral arrangements is expected this afternoon by Mrs. James W. Newman, who has been advised that the body will be brought to this city for burial. Judge Newman of Columbus, is expected at noon today to assist in making the arrangements.

Bonzo Found Lost Pistol

Officer Joe Bonzo's pistol which was lost by him in the Masonic Temple Friday evening, was later found and restored to him by Attorney Nate Gilliland.

WOMAN FOUND DEAD IN BED

Retiring in her usual good health Friday evening, Mrs. Amanda Hockaden, wife of Christopher Hockaden, prominent farmer of Otway, slept the sleep that knows no awakening, as she was found dead in bed Saturday morning. It is thought death resulted from heart trouble. Coroner Dr. Walter Daehler was called to Otway this morning to make an investigation of Mrs. Hockaden's sudden death.

When Mrs. Hockaden failed to get up at her usual hour this morning it was thought that she was possibly sleeping a little longer than usual and was not disturbed. When she failed to get up for breakfast at 7 o'clock Mr. Hockaden went to his wife's room to arouse her, but he found the task a futile one as the spark of life had fled. His faithful life partner was in the embrace of death.

Mrs. Hockaden was about 70 years old and had lived for many years at Otway. In addition to her husband she is survived by ten children.

Boy Runs In Front Of Auto; Is Bruised

Honier, three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Crayton Cook, of Tenth street, was knocked down and painfully injured by an automobile at Tenth and Waller streets, driven by Dr. C. R. Pontius, of Fremont, who was here on a visit to his daughter, Mrs. Russell W. Anderson, of Fifth street.

The lad started across the street to join some companions and ran in front of Dr. Pontius' machine, which was traveling at a moderate rate of speed. Bystanders saw the little fellow's predicament, and shouted to Dr. Pontius to stop. One of them, David Beving, ran over quickly, and pulled him out, just in time to save him from further injury.

Examination of his injuries disclosed a painfully bruised shoulder, and a bad bump on the head. He was carried to the office of Dr. P. H. Williams, but his father came after him and took him home. Dr. W. A. Quinn was later called, and he dressed the boy's injuries, which were not of serious nature. He was up and around as usual Saturday morning.

Maurice Briggs Accepts Splendid College Position

Friends of Maurice Briggs, son of Wm. Briggs, of the Gilbert Grocery company, will be pleased to learn that he has just been made assistant athletic director and coach of the track team of the University School of Cleveland, one of the best known schools in the state. Mr. Briggs will take up his new work in September, when he will locate in the Forest City.

Mr. Briggs was located in Phillips Andover, Mass., last year and figured prominently in the athletic affairs of this school, having charge of the football team. Briggs was captain of the Ohio State University football team, which made gridiron history in 1914. He was then recognized as one of the best football players in the country. He is an all-round athlete and should be heard from in his new athletic post in Cleveland.

Mr. Briggs for the past two weeks has been doing special enrollment work for the University School.

WHEELS ARE STOLEN

Edgar Miller and James Sutherland, two messenger boys, reported to the police that while they were delivering messages at the street fair grounds Friday evening their bicycles were stolen. One was an Excelsior wheel and the other of Western make. One of the boys had just equipped his bicycle with a $7 saddle.

Finger Tips Are Clipped

Walter, 13-year-old son of Jas. Kelley, of Kinney street, had the tips of two fingers clipped off Friday night when his left hand was caught in the sprocket wheel of his machine, which he was cleaning.

Kaps Supporters Effect An Organization; Plans Are Made To Wage Red Hot Campaign

Supporters of H. H. (Bert) Kaps for the Republican nomination of mayor held an enthusiastic meeting in the hall above the Atlas store Friday evening, at which a permanent organization was effected, an executive committee selected, and a systematic plan of campaign outlined in advance of the party primary.

Permanent headquarters have been established in the hall where the meeting was held, which will be opened morning, afternoon and evening. A man will be placed in charge of the headquarters Monday, and all work will be conducted from that center.

Dr. P. W. Young acted as temporary chairman of the meeting while a permanent organization was being adopted. George W. Sheppard read the report of the committee on organizations, which was unanimously accepted, and named the following officers and committeemen:

President, E. K. S. Clinkenbeard; vice president, John Eckhart; secretary, Charles Schirman; treasurer, M. J. Caldwell.

Executive committee, Charles B. Hard, chairman; William S. Sellards, Samuel Williams, W. F. Byers, Daniel Thomas, George W. Sheppard, John F. Eckhart, Maurice J. Caldwell, F. W. Smith, Dr. P. W. Young, H. B. Adams, Pete Yeager, George E. Matthews, Harry Dixon, Edward J. Daehler, Albert Weghorst, Samuel H. Harper, J. D. Grubbs, Clifford Smith, Roman Walker, Joseph Scholl, Frank Puckett, William Cline, William Dragan, W. S. Hancy, Ralph Calvert, Charles Hancock, A. T. Holcomb, Jr., Sampson Eckhart, George Bauer, Floyd D. Munn, Theodore Bauer, John Fritts, John Martin, O. Pryor Nourse, J. Brooks Stewart, Ed McNamara, Charles Grace, Henry Clark, Clarence Wright, John Capehart, and Spencer Gowdy.

The new president, E. K. S. Clinkenbeard, made an eloquent speech of acceptance, near the close of which he lauded the candidate of their organization, H. H. Kaps.

Short speeches favoring the candidacy of Kaps and pledging themselves to his cause were made by George W. Sheppard, Charles E. Hard, William Dragan, and Frank W. Moulton. Mr. Kaps acknowledged the many complimentary things that had been said about him in a neat speech at the close of the meeting.

Freelance meetings have been arranged in every precinct in the city Monday and Tuesday evening, to be followed by a general meeting at the headquarters on Thursday evening.

By a curious coincidence the Kaps supporters are occupying the rooms that for two years past were the headquarters of the defunct Bull Moose party in Scioto county. The anti-Kaps men are pointing to this with great glee and claim that the old guard is a legitimate successor to the Bull Moose and that it is eminently fitting that they should have Moose quarters in which to kick against the real organization.

The Movies

Charley Chaplin At Arcana Theatre Today

That Manager Potts is always looking after the interests of the patrons of the Arcana Theater, is shown by the fact that he has made arrangements to show the Charley Chaplin features and will show them at his popular amusement place on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays. The first Chaplin picture will be shown tonight, and you are assured of a rare treat. The Chaplin picture this afternoon and night is especially adapted to please and delight the women and children. It is a screen from first to last and said to be one of the best that Chaplin has so far produced.

In addition to the Chaplin feature, Manager Potts will show two other reels of realism, one a drama and the other a comedy. The film for this afternoon and night is guaranteed to be one of the biggest ever shown in the city, and if you want to be highly entertained and instructed, come to the Arcana tonight. Plenty of fresh air, a big battery of electric fans, comfortable seats and pictures thrown on a gold fiber screen, the best that money can buy. And best of all, the admission is only five cents to all—that's our big feature, remember that.

At The Exhibit

Charles Chaplin, the big little comedian, is the attraction at the Exhibit today. He is appearing in a screamingly funny comedy entitled "Cruel, Cruel Love." The picture gives Chaplin a chance to display his ability as a comedian and there is one continual laugh from beginning to end all through the picture.

Changing his policy for Saturdays only Manager Law announces three other reels of films today and an admission price of 10 cents for the big show. There will be another good picture entitled "Pirates Bold." It is a good snappy picture all the way through. The big special feature is a two reel picture "The Mysterious Airship." Many thrilling scenes are shown, especially some which give striking examples of daring in the air. Don't miss this big show today for ten cents which includes orchestra music.

HUBBY BEGS FOR MERCY

Frank Bates, a North End young man, who during a quarrel threw out his plate of bean soup and kicked off his young wife's big toe nail, became hysterical when she appeared at police headquarters Friday evening and signed an affidavit against him. He begged so hard for another chance that she finally relented and withdrew the affidavit. The couple left together. Bates had objected to his wife frequenting the street fair.

COMPLAIN OF CAGGING

Market street merchants are complaining that loafers about the esplanade are resuming the practice of "cagging" booze money, to the annoyance of pedestrians generally.
